KNOX ENGAGES OUTSIDE HELP

New York and Baltimore Lawyers to Prosecute Fraud Cases.

GRAND JURY AT WORK

Postmaster General Payne Says No Charges Are Pending in Shallenberger's Bureau.

MADDEN FILES A PROTEST

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.

Charles J. Bonaparte of Baltimore and Holmes Conrad of New York have been chosen to prosecute the cases against August W. Machen and others indicted in connection with the postoffice department scandal. They were selected for this duty after conferences between President Roosevelt, Attorney General Knox and Postmaster General Payne. Mr. Bonaparte is a well-known reformer and a leading attorney of Baltimore, and it is understood that he will specially look after the cases involving the Washington office. Mr. Conrad is a Democrat and was solicitor general under Cleveland. He will probably devote his attention specially to the cases that affect the New York postoffice, although both will assist in preparing all the cases for trial.

The grand jury was in session today and took up more of the postoffice cases. It is understood that the contracts now under investigation are those relating to the use of aluminum paint on street letter boxes.

Postmaster General Payne today stated that there were no charges pending against the office of the second assistant postmaster general. This is the bureau presided over by W. S. Shallenberger of Rochester, Beaver county, Pa.

Complaint Was Unfounded.

Some time ago complaint was made to the postmaster general by employes of the mail bag repair shop about the administration of that department. These complaints were referred to Mr. Shallenberger and his reply has been in the hands of the postmaster general for several weeks. It is said that it satisfactorily explains the matters complained of.

Mr. Paul Herman of Rutherford, N. J., who was the lowest bidder on the contract for printing the money order blanks for the department and for holding up whose bid James T. Metcalf, superintendent of the money order system, was dismissed, called at the office of First Assistant Wynn today and filed further proof of his ability to perform the contract. There seems to be little doubt now that the contract will be awarded to him.

DETROIT, MICH., June 23.—Third Assistant Postmaster General Edward C. Madden, who is visiting in this city, today sent a letter to Postmaster General Payne, denying that he let a contract for carbon paper for the registry division of the postoffice without permitting competition and asking the postmaster general to immediately investigate the story and its source. Mr. Madden in his letter says:

Mr. Madden's Denial.

The whole statement in so far as it attempts to involve me is absolutely false. I had nothing to do with the details of the contract; I drew no specifications; I did not initial; I did not sign; in fact I never saw the contract if there is one. My sole interest and connection with the subject is limited to an expression of approval of the particular carbon paper in question, by its labor-saving and in other ways a great improvement over the old style manifolding process and much better serves the needs of the postal service; and this approval was not given until after an investigation and recommendation to me by my superintendent of registry system and a recommendation by the superintendent of division of postoffice supplies of the first assistant's office.

CINCINNATI, O., June 23.—Perry S. Heath, former first assistant postmaster general, telegraphs from Salt Lake City, as follows:

"There have recently been many brutal, malicious, vicious and wholly untrue statements published against me, but none of them have been quite so low and entirely false as the one that I had transferred my property at Muncie to my brother or anyone. I have neither made nor contemplated any transfer of my property to anyone. Some years ago I transferred a small block of stock in the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune to my nephew, and I presume that is the transaction which is now made the subject of another attack upon me by the yellow newspapers."

Denial from Franklin.

FRANKLIN, PA., June 23.—(Special.)—The charges made at Washington against the General Manifold Company of this city are emphatically denied by Dr. Frank R. Johnson, secretary, who said: "No child labor is employed by the company. The plant is run on a strictly union basis. The printers are members of the Typographical union. Regarding the charges of being favored in the contracts for the carbon sheet books, thre is no need for denial. The bids were filed according to the specifications required by the government."

TWO DEAD, THIRD MAY DIE BY EATING GREEN APPLES

BUTLER, PA., June 23.—(Special.)—As the result of eating green apples, two children in the family of A. P. Sherman are dead and the third is seriously ill. An autopsy held on the second child revealed the cause of death, which was at first a mystery. Other neighborhood children who ate freely of the apples escaped illness.

ONE LYNCHER IS NOW IN PRISON

Police Make but Slight Effort to Atone for Life Given Up at Stake.

TO BE MORE ARRESTS

Populace Seems Satisfied With Summary Vengeance Dealt to Murderer White.

MANY SEEK MORBID CURIOS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilmington, Del., June 23.—An air of expectancy seems to prevade this city as the result of last night's lynching of George White, the negro, who assaulted and murdered 17-year-old Helen Bishop. The terrible details of his speedy punishment are calmly rehearsed, and while public sentiment seems to deplore the violence of the mob, it seems to be conceded on every hand that summary vengeance alone could atone for the brutal outrage.

The air tonight is full of rumor of impending arrests, but Attorney General H. H. Ward, in whose hands the discretionary power to order them lies, has made a brief statement, in which he said the state would await the result of the coroner's inquest and see that every effort would be exerted to ascertain the names of the leaders. Coroner McCormick has not fixed the date for the inquest. One arrest was made tonight by State Detective Francis. The prisoner is Arthur Corwell of Baltimore. Bail was offered by Millionaire James McComb, but was refused.

Blamed on Judges.

The officials have little to say regarding the affair. It is said that state and city detectives were in the crowd last night and recognized some of those who participated in the burning. Other arrests, it is believed, will follow.

Former delays and failures of the Delaware justice in relation to crimes like that of the negro, White, are cited to explain in part the movement that resulted in his death. It is upon everybody's lips, too, that if there had been assurance of a speedy trial for White, through the holding of a special court session, there would have been no lynching. The judges who had postponed action on the case of the confessed assailant of Miss Bishop, today explain their action by stating the popular prejudice and indignation would have precluded the possibility of a fair trial for the culprit.

The Rev. H. A. Ellwood of the Olivet Presbyterian church, who in his pulpit exhibited leaves stained with the blood of the murdered girl, and declared that in a certain given tingency, the people ought to rise and vindicate the majesty of the law, is held by many to have communicated to public sentiment the spark which caused it to explode with tragic effect. He has denied that he really intended to counsel lynching, but he does not retract any portion of his sermon. The clergymen of Wilmington, with the exception of the Rev. Elwood met today and formally condemned mob violence.

Curio Hunters Busy.

Deputy Coroner Killmer, who today visited Prince's Corner, the scene of the lynching, found little to view. All semblance of the human form in White's body had been obliterated by the avenging fire and the morbidly curious relic hunters. A small portion of the trunk and one or two charred bones were recovered and taken to the morgue. Of the hundreds of persons who today visited the spot where the funeral pyre was lighted, scarcely one lef twithout some ghastly memento. One man carried away a foot that had not been consumed. Fragments of clothing, pieces of wood, cinders and any article that bore mute testimony of the mob's work were eagerly sought.

Mrs. Bishop, mother of the murdered girl, is in a state of nervous collapse. White was put to death within a few hundred yards of the Bishop home and the glare of the fire and howls of the mob could be plainly heard at the house. Rev. E. A. Bishop, father of the murdered girl, in an interview today, deplored the mob law which had terminated the life of his daughter's assailant. He said, however, that it was the impression of the citizens that had a speedy trial been promised, the tragedy could have been averted. Mr. Bishop stated that his wife was in delicate health, but since hearing of the lynching and knowing of White's confession, she seemed much improved.

He had been aware for several days, he said, of the purpose of the citizens and had so notified the police of Wilmington and Warden Meserve of the New Castle county jail. Rev. Bishop sat up with his sick wife last night and when the mob arrived with their victim their shouts could be heard at the house, the bedroom window of which commanded a view of the spot where the negro was executed.

Boy's Condition Serious.

The arrangements for the horrible execution of White were complete. Bundles of straw were secured from a nearby barn and upon these were piled dry underbrush. Fence rails were split and added to the pyre, which was thoroughly soaked with kerosene. The negro was then bound from shoulders to feet with a heavy rope and thrown upon the blazing pile. Before the torch was applied, White confessed his guilt and prayed fervently for mercy.

During the show of resistance made by the police and the jail officials when the mob attacked the New Castle county workhouse Peter Smith, a 12-year-old boy,

MOB OF CITIZENS MAKES DEMAND FOR NEGRO'S LIFE

Another Lynching of a Murderer May Take Place Before the Morning's Dawn.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Peoria, Ill., June 23.—Detective William E. Murphy was killed by "Billy" McRay, a negro desperado, whom he was attempting to arrest tonight. McRay then attempted to make his escape, but was caught by Detective Chadwick. Murphy was taken to the hospital, where he died within 20 minutes of the time he received the wound.

McRay was hurried to the city jail, and in less than an hour a mob numbering at least 1,000 men and boys, had assembled and made a demand on the chief of police for the prisoner. The chief refused to surrender him.

With the hope of attracting the attention of the mob the fire department was called out and made a run past the jail. The ruse partially succeeded, many of the crowd following the department. In the meantime, the chief had ordered all the electric lights in the city put out and in the darkness McRay was taken hurriedly to the county jail.

In a short time the mob discovered that it had been deceived and formed in front of the county jail. The entire police force of the city was called out in order to guard the jail. At midnight, the jail was surrounded and there are rumors from the lower end of the city where the dead officer resided, that another mob is gathering with the intention of lynching the negro. The situation is very critical.

SCHWAB'S RESIGNATION AFFIRMED AND DENIED

Wall Street Discusses Another Rumor Affecting Steel Corporation President.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 23.—The Evening Post today says: "It was reported in Wall street this afternoon that the resignation of Charles M. Schwab as president of the United States Steel Corporation would probably be announced tomorrow or before the end of the week. The story was credited in some quarters where excellent information is sometimes obtained, but the rumor could not be confirmed."

A statement was given out tonight as coming from Mr. Schwab that he has no intention of resigning the presidency of the United States Steel Corporation. It was added that Mr. Schwab was in excellent health and was at the steel corporation's offices daily.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE.

Small Child Swept Through a Sewer into River and Recovered Alive.

MONONGAHELA, PA., June 23.—(Special.)—As Joseph Gladden, a carpenter, was this morning watching the great volume of water pouring out of a sewer that empties into the Monongahela river, he saw the form of a little girl shoot from the opening. He ran to the spot and rescued the child before she was carried out by the current.

The little one proved to be the daughter of William Gabrish, six years old. She had been playing along a small stream that runs into the sewer. The stream was swollen by rain. The child was caught by the rush of water and swept to the sewer, through which she was borne 200 feet. After the child recovered from the shock and fright she was found to be unhurt.

PITTSBURGH TO HAVE NEW SKYSCRAPER

The Arrott Building to Be Nucleus of Immense Bank Building.

SAFE DEPOSIT PLANS

One of the largest and handsomest bank buildings in the city will grow out of the present Arrott building at Fourth avenue and Wood street if plans which have been suggested to the Safe Deposit and Trust Company are carried out. These plans provide for adding to the present Arrott building similar additions on both the Wood street and the Fourth avenue sides. The Wood street frontage is that of the Peoples National bank, which was yesterday formally purchased by the Safe Deposit and Trust Company. The Fourth avenue frontage is that of the trust company itself. Both adjoin the Arrott building, the first floor of which is occupied by the Safe Deposit and Trust itself.

It is proposed to purchase the Arrott building from the present owners and build on the Peoples National bank site on the Wood street side and on the Safe Deposit and Trust's own property on the Fourth avenue side, structures exactly matching the present Arrott building in architecture, so that the three structures can be made one. This will give an office building 18 stories high, with a frontage of 121 feet in Wood street and 120 feet in Fourth avenue. It will occupy one of the choicest locations in the city. How valuable property there is can be seen by the height of the present Arrott building—18 stories on a lot only 73 by 60 feet. The Peoples National bank property has a frontage of 48 feet in Wood street and the Safe Deposit's property in Fourth avenue has a frontage of 46 feet.

The light shaft in such a case would be at the inside corner of the present Arrott building. The plan is one of the most feasible, it is said, that could be suggested.

By the purchase of the Peoples Savings bank, which has within a year or so completed its own handsome skyscraper on the northeast corner of Wood and Fourth, the Safe Deposit came into possession also of the Peoples Land Company. This corporation owns that building and in turn is owned by the bank. Whether the building would be sold or held as a valuable investment is a point not yet considered, for all the plans as yet are tentative.

There is, however, a strong sentiment toward bringing the three institutions into the one building. The proposed plan would give a space of, approximately, 14,000 square feet on each floor.

The action of yesterday in increasing the capital stock of the Safe Deposit company from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 was approved by a vote of 19,982 shares out of 20,000. There were no dissenting votes. As already announced in The Gazette, the new stock of the Safe Depoelt and Trust Company is exchanged, share for share, for the Peoples National bank stock. The value at which this was reckoned was practically $350 a share.

LEAPED TO DEATH FROM BROOKLYN BRIDGE TOWER

NEW YORK, June 23.—Archibald Morrison, a silk salesman, committed suicide today by a novel way from the Brooklyn bridge. He climbed the platform railing south of the Brooklyn tower, jumped on top of a train, fell off the last car, struck the third rail, was thrown across the track, fell through the ties and landed on Front street, more than 100 feet below, a mangled corpse.

LAW OF ASSOCIATIONS AGAIN STRENGTHENED

French Chamber of Deputies Passes Stringent Amendment to the Statute.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, June 23.—The debate in the chamber of deputies today on the bill prohibiting a secularized member of any congregation to teach in a commune where he had taught as a member of a congregation before the expiration of three years was exciting.

Premier Combes left the defense of the measure to M. Vall, minister of justice, who insisted on the necessity of arming the government with a new weapon against the congregations because the law was being evaded. Two-thirds of the unauthorized schools, he said, continued in operation and when the police appeared they were told that the members were secularized, and a letter from the bishop certifying to the fact was shown. The only difference was that the teachers wore ordinary clothes instead of the religious garb.

A disorderly debate lasted till half past eleven tonight. The vote resulted in the adoption of the bill by 329 to 66.

The chamber also passed 308 to 14, a resolution authorizing the dissolution of such congregations as evaded the law by reopening their closed establishments with a new set of teachers, substituted for the original members of the congregations.

UNION TRUST REPORTS MEET QUICK DENIALS

Rumor of Purchase of the First National Bank and Fidelity Title and Trust Company.

Reports were current yesterday that the Union Trust Company had successfully negotiated a deal by which the control of the First National bank and of the Fidelity Title & Trust Company passed to the Union. The report met with positive denial from H. C. McEldowney, president of the Union Trust Company and John B. Jackson, president of the Fidelity. An effort to see Charles E. Speer, president of the First National bank, was unsuccessful, but Mr. McEldowney denied that report as well as the other.

"There is absolutely nothing in either report, although I heard myself, today, the same report regarding the First National bank," said Mr. McEldowney. "There is nothing being done in this line."

John B. Jackson made as positive a denial for his company, the Fidelity. "The report is not a new one," he said, "but it has never had, does not have now, nor is there any indication of it ever having any truth."

BONDHOLDERS WERE FOOLED

Charge Is Made in Shipbuilding Receivership Hearing.

SCHWAB IS ACCUSED

Counsel for Plaintiffs Says He Secured Mortgage for Which No Consideration Is Given.

CORBIN DENIES INSOLVENCY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, June 23.

Charles M. Schwab may be compelled to detail his part in the manipulation of the affairs of the Bethlehem Steel Company and the United States Shipbuilding Company. In the hearing of the application for a receiver of the latter company today in Newark before Judge Kirkpatrick, Mr. Schwab was severely arraigned. He was compared to the wreckers of the old Sixth National bank of this city, who were sent to prison for criminal acts. From remarks made by the judge before the argument really began it would appear that the appointment of a receiver is certain.

It was rumored in financial circles that ex-Senator James Smith of New Jersey is to be the man. A further report is to the effect that an English shipbuilding concern had offered to purchase the United States Shipbuilding Company. The terms, as rumored, were the assumption of the $10,000,000 mortgage of the Bethlehem Steel Company and the payment of a sum approximating 40 per cent of the amount of the bonded indebtedness of the company.

The intimation that more trouble was in store for Mr. Schwab came in the argument of Mr. Untermeyer, counsel for the plaintiffs. He declared that the complaining first mortgage bondholders when they invested never knew they were dealing with the matter of Bethlehem. They heard of that transaction later.

"The shipbuilding company, when it bought the Bethlehem concern, paid $30,000,000," said Mr. Untermyer. "Those $30,000,000 were pretty well secured, but they were illegally secured. Mr. Schwab not only took the stock of the Bethlehem company as security for his $10,000,000, but he did a thing that is still to be explained and for which he may be called to account. He had the Bethlehem Steel Company make a mortgage for $10,000,000. What consideration did the shipbuilding company get for that mortgage? Under what law could such a deal be made."

For the defendants, Mr. Corbin denied that insolvency had been shown or mismanagement and even asserted that the complainants were a party to the whole affair, present conditions and all, and that the court had no jurisdiction. He said there was no legal proof presented of the charges against Mr. Schwab and Lewis Nixon, and it must be presumed they were doing their full duty and skillfully managing the concerns' affairs.

He said the declaration that the company would not be able to meet its obligations was merely a prediction. The reorganization committee, he maintained, did not represent the United States Shipbuilding Company. He admitted there was a weakness in the company, due to a lack of working capital. It is this deficit that causes the need of a reorganization, but he was sure the concern was not insolvent. Without a reorganization the interest charges now imminent could be met, but it would so decrease the working capital that it would seriously cripple the company.

The argument of Mr. Corbin not being concluded today, the hearing will be resumed at Newark tomorrow morning.

Wife of New York Janitor Commits Suicide Because of Tenants' Complaints.

NEW YORK, June 23.—(Special.)—Failing in her efforts to please the tenants of the building of which her husband was janitor, Mrs. Kate Bode committed suicide today.

"I cannot stand this any longer. I will kill myself," she remarked after one of the tenants had made a protest. She drank acid and called her daughter. She threw her arms about the girl, told her what she had done and kissed her. The acid on the mother's lips as she pressed them to those of her daughter left its mark, burning the mouth of the girl. The screams of the daughter aroused the tenants. An ambulance was called from the Lincoln hospital. The woman died before she reached the institution.

TAX ORDINANCE TO BE PASSED

Meeting of Select Council Committee to Approve Franchise Bill.

SESSION THIS WEEK

Law Will Be Amended to Make It Non-Operative Until Next Year.

CARD FOR USE OF CITIZENS

Citizens members of select council intend to pass at the meeting next Monday or the following the general franchise ordinance levying a 5 per cent tax on the gross receipts of public service corporations, but the ordinance is to be amended to prevent it from becoming operative until next year. The purpose of this program is to give the Citizens credit for keeping their campaign pledges and at the same time to delay the matter until after the councilmanic election to permit a repealing ordinance to be passed when the elections are over, if deemed advisable.

Mayor Hays wants the ordinance passed, and a meeting of the finance committee of select council will be called for Friday to send the ordinance to that branch next Monday afternoon and to pass it. The franchise ordinance has been in the committee since January.

To please Mayor Hays, President Lambie, Chairman Wainwright and other members of the committee have announced that they will help to have the ordinance reported out although they express the opinion that it is illegal. It is President Lambie's suggestion that the ordinance be passed and to allow it to be tested in the court, when an attempt is made to enforce the collection of taxes under its provisions.

Chairman Wainwright conferred with Mayor Hays a couple of days ago in reference to the ordinance, and it was agreed that it will be passed by select council, with the aid of the Republican members, before the summer adjournment is taken.

"We want to dispose of all matters in the committee before councils adjourn for the summer," said Mr. Wainwright yesterday. "We will not have more than one or two meetings more, and I will call a meeting of finance committee for this week, probably Friday."

It is claimed by the members of the finance committee of the upper branch that the law could not be passed in time for it to become operative by the first Monday of July this year, and that the time must be extended until July next year.

PRESIDENT PREPARES TO LEAVE WASHINGTON

Contingent of Secret Service Experts Will Guard Him at Oyster Bay Home.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 23.—President Roosevelt is getting business in shape so that he will be able to leave Washington for Oyster Bay at the end of this week. His intention is to leave here Saturday morning going right through to Oyster Bay, which he will reach in the afternoon. A reception by the people of Oyster Bay will celebrate his arrival. The demonstration is to be a home affair.

The secret service contingent that has done duty at the White House will be at Oyster Bay during the president's sojourn there. Several additional men will be sent. The open nature of the president's home at Oyster Bay, together with the freedom of movement which he exercises, makes it necessary to keep good men around to watch for new comers and strange faces. The crank will follow the president to Oyster Bay or anywhere else, but the secret service officials who have been at the White House a long time have become adepts at picking out queer people and sending them away satisfied. A crank called at the White House a few days ago who thought he had procured the freedom of Cuba and wanted the president to pay him a large sum for his services.

Mrs. Roosevelt at Oyster Bay.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 23.—Mrs. Roosevelt arrived here at 9:40 o'clock tonight accompanied by a maid. Superintendent Noah Seamen of Sagamore Hill met her at the station with a carriage, which she entered and was driven home. There were few at the station when she arrived.

FIRE AT CONFIRMATION.

Sixty Children Badly Scared When a Lighted Candle Ignited a Dress.

WEST NEWTON, PA., June 23.—(Special.)—A panic was narrowly averted in the Roman Catholic church here today, on the occasion of the confirmation of a class of 60 children. The youthful communicants knelt at the altar, each holding a lighted candle. The veil of one of the little girls caught fire, and the flames were communicated to the clothing of the other children.

In an instant all the children were on their feet, and made an attempt to rush out of the building, but were prevented by some of the priests, and the blaze quickly extinguished. Some of the little people were somewhat burned, but none seriously.

DRIVER IS BADLY INJURED

Peoples Was Thrown to Pavement. Vehicle Containing Casket Was Wrecked and Serious Confusion Reigned Among Score of Conveyances.

A pair of horses, attached to a hearse that was bearing the body of Thomas W. McCray of No. 1425 Juniata street to its final resting place in Homewood cemetery, yesterday afternoon, were frightened by a locomotive in the Ft. Wayne yards, near Allegheny avenue and Juniata streets, Allegheny, and ran away, upsetting the first carriage of another funeral that was emerging from Locust street, hurling to the ground and seriously injuring their driver, and finally, after wrecking the hearse by colliding with a trolley pole, breaking loose and tearing wildly down Allegheny avenue and along Grant avenue for some distance before they were brought to a standstill.

The confusion and excitement caused by the runaway and smash-up was tremendous and for a while it looked as though other horses would break away and add to the sum of disaster. Had this happened serious injury to many and probably loss of life would have resulted. That it did not was due to the coolness and to the splendid management displayed by the drivers of a score or more of carriages involved in the general tangle of wheels when the collision occurred.

The accident happened about 3:40 o'clock. The funeral service of Mr. McCray, an Allegheny county tipstave and a well-known man in political and railroad circles, was held at the First German Presbyterian church, in Juniata street, and the procession of a dozen carriages followed that street to Allegheny avenue. In the first two vehicles were the pallbearers, among them Coroner Jesse M. McGeary, John Speer, an official at the Allegheny station of the Ft. Wayne road, where for many years Mr. McCray was employed; Police Lieutenant William Speer, William B. Kirker of Bellevue and the Rev. Mr. Lorenz of Sewickley.

Horses on the Dead Run.

The hearse, driven by Samuel Peoples, of No. 1806 Laurel street, was the third vehicle in the line. It was drawn by two coal-black horses, one of which was young and full of life, and it was this one that was frightened by a shifting engine which was moving in the same direction just inside the fence which bounds the Ft. Wayne yards at a curve in Allegheny avenue. Both horses broke into a dead run almost immediately, and although Harry Lowrie, son of James Lowrie, the undertaker in charge of the funeral, leaped from his seat on the box of the foremost carriage and tried to catch hold of the nearest bridle, they cleared the procession and raced madly down Allegheny avenue.

Peoples, the driver, is confident that he could have ultimately brought them under control had not the element of the second funeral suddenly and without warning entered into the situation. The casket containing the body of Herman Edward Lautner, had just been taken from his late home, No. 1118 Locust street, the mourners had entered the carriages on their way to the Allegheny cemetery, and the first one in the line, containing Dr. E. B. Hecker and his wife, of No. 1005 Locust street, brother-in-law and sister of the dead man, had just turned the corner into Allegheny avenue, when the runaway hearse dashed alongside, caught the rear wheel and completely upset the carriage. Its driver, Patrick Parker, colored, employed by the Kennedy Livery Company, landed on his feet uninjured, but the two occupants of the carriage were badly shaken, although their injuries were trifling. They were lifted out through the doorway on the upper side.

Peoples, however, was hurled headlong to the pavement, striking on his head and arms, and was picked up in a dazed condition. He was carried into the office of Dr. J. C. Boggs, No. 1311 Allegheny avenue, where it was found that his left arm was fractured above the wrist, and that he had sustained a deep scalp wound, besides being badly bruised and scraped. He was later sent to his home.

Hearse Completely Wrecked.

Without anyone controlling the reins, the horses continued their mad flight down the street, the hearse rocking from side to side and in danger every moment of upsetting. Below Pennsylvania avenue, with the wheels of one side running on the sidewalk, it struck a stepping block, caromed off into the street, bounced up on the sidewalk again, and collided with an iron pole. The right front wheel was broken off, the springs over the rear axle were torn from the vehicle, and the axle broken and bent at right angles. The force of the shock threw the casket against the glass side of the hearse, shattering it.

The traces giving way at this point, the horses continued down Allegheny avenue, and turned into Grant avenue. Near Beach street the harness became entangled around a tree, and they were brought to a standstill and led back to their stable by two colored men who chanced to be on the spot.

When the collision between the hearse and the carriage in the Lautner funeral occurred, there was wild confusion among the horses of the 30 or more carriages in the procession, which was under the direction of L. Swilley & Son, undertakers, and it was feared that more runaways and accidents would follow. Both funerals were delayed, the McCray one for over half an hour, while a new hearse was being procured, into which the casket was transferred, and the Lautner one for nearly as long, while a carriage was being substituted for the wrecked one.

IRISHMAN RESENTED AN ITALIAN BOSS.

Superintendent of Police McTighe met an Irishman who was more persistent than himself yesterday, and after turning him away several times was compelled to place him on the force. On Monday the man, who is from the Sixth ward, asked McTighe to place him on the force. The superintendent did not want him, and in order to get rid of him gave him a letter to an inspector of the bureau of highways and sewers, telling him that he could get a position there.

This inspector was an Italian, and yesterday morning the Irishman returned to McTighe's office, foaming with wrath.

"Bad luck to you, Johnny," he said, "that was a dago you gave me the letter to."

"That was pretty rough," replied McTighe. "I will give you a job on the force."

The man will be sworn in today.

M'MILLAN THE VICTIM OF BASE SLANDERERS

New Mexican Jurist Removed by the President Has Many Supporters in Santa Fe.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

SANTA FE., N. M., June 23.—In Santa Fe the belief is firm that Judge Daniel McMillan of Buffalo, just removed from the supreme bench of this territory, is the victim of circumstances and an offering to a horde of character assassins which territorial conditions have brought into existence, and who have violently persecuted every official from Gov. Otero down.

The charges against Judge McMillan, who is a close friend of Secretary Root, who believes in his innocence, are that he was indiscreet with a woman named Mrs. Parks of Buffalo, who conducted a boarding house at Albuquerque, having been sent there by her physician after an attack of pneumonia.

It was charged that Mrs. Parks occupied rooms adjoining those of Judge McMillan, while he was holding court at Carlsbad and at Lincoln, and that she followed him to Santa Fe during the session of the Thirty-fourth legislative assembly. It was also charged that Judge McMillan supplied her with money, especially a certain draft in another name than that of Mrs. Parks, and that upon one occasion he introduced her as his wife, this latter assertion being, however entirely disapproved.

DENNIS WAS SEARCHING.

He Didn't Know What for, and Was Willing to Give It Away if He Found It.

Eager search in cellar coal bins for "something great," which nevertheless he was willing to give away, failed to bring to Dennis Hartnett yesterday anything more than commitment to a Twenty-eighth street station house cell, and this morning he will be examined as to his sanity.

Fireman George Vogel was the discoverer of Dennis in his strange search. He noticed him dash excitedly into a basement opening in Larkins alley and he waited for him to reappear. He soon showed up, but only darted into another cellar. The fireman followed and found him raking over the coal with his hands.

"What are you doing?" Vogel asked.

"I don't know, but when I find it I will give it to you," was the reply, as Hartnett ran out of the cellar and entered another, where the same coal digging was started.

Again Vogel asked: "What are you doing?"

The reply was: "It's great, and if I find it, you can have it."

This was too great generosity and Dennis was sent to the station house.

A CAPTAIN BEREAVED.

Pathetic Funeral Services Are Held on Canal Boat in New York Harbor.

NEW YORK, June 23.—(Special.)—Funeral services were conducted in the cabin of the canal boat Coxe Bros., which is moored at Communipaw, this afternoon, in the center of the cabin there rested a coffin covered with velvet. It was open full length, exposing the body of Mrs. Otis Goodsire, dressed in a robe of white silk.

Diamonds glistened in her ears, on her fingers, and at the throat was a crescent-shaped diamond brooch. The hair had been dressed by a professional, and a smile on the face added to the beauty of the young wife. Seventy-five canal boat captains, their families and the crews of the boats were grouped about the cabin. A quartet sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me." At the head of the coffin sat the husband, Capt. Goodsire, with his two little children on his knees.

PICNIC CALLED FOR TRUCE.

Thirtieth Ward School Directors Buried Hatchet to Give Youngsters Outing.

Like a sweet dream of peace the annual picnic of the Knox school came yesterday to the Thirtieth ward school directors, who have been at loggerheads for several weeks. On the event of the picnic, however, they declared a truce in order to give the children an opportunity to enjoy themselves and all went to Aliquippa grove where good weather in the afternoon blessed the outing.

Three members of the board are Republicans and three follow the Citizens way of thinking. Friction has characterized the action of the board in every effort to arrange for the picnic and finally in desperation, the general passenger agent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad canceled the train arrangements. Here the little folks made an appeal and the belligerent politicians were prevailed upon to bury their differences while the youngsters could have their annual festivities. Over 1,400 pupils attended and filled two special trains to Aliquippa.

Want Two Congregations.

The congregation of the Presbyterian church of Wilkinsburg will meet tonight to consider the question of forming a new congregation. When the present church was built three years ago it was agreed that one-third of the proceeds of the old church property sold at that time should go towards the erection of a new church. The proposal will be made tonight to build the new church and divide the present congregation, which has a membership of 2,000.

No Signature to the Note.

Charged with false pretense in buying a store with an unsigned note, John Nedoff, an Austrian groceryman of No. 2716 Jane street, South Side, was held for court yesterday by Alderman James V. McMasters on the complaint of Bozo Stephanovic of No. 2714 Jane street. The latter claims that when he presented the note given for the store sold to Nedoff, he was told that the note was unsigned and that he had better get out of the store.

Going Abroad for Rails.

NEW YORK, June 23.—(Special.)—Local steel officials state that railroads which cannot get rails are trying to get them abroad. At $28 per ton the foreign rail makers must pay the ocean freight, and the duty, which nets them less than $17 per ton. One road is said to be negotiating for 10,000 tons.

GIRLS CAN COOK AND BOYS CAN DRIVE NAILS

The coming generation of women in the Twenty-sixth ward will be good homemakers and the men will be "handy about the house," regardless of other accomplishments which they may possess. Yesterday afternoon the pupils in the domestic arts and manual training departments of the Humboldt school gave the first annual exhibition of their knowledge of the useful arts. The exhibit of their work filled three large rooms and delighted hundreds of visitors.

The pupils of the Twenty-sixth ward schools stand among the best in the city in the regular studies, but under the tutelage of Miss Edith McDermott in the cooking and sewing classes they have learned many of the practical lessons which they will be called upon to exercise soon in life. There is no girl in the advanced grades in the Humboldt who could not cook a good appetizing meal, and there is likewise no boy who cannot drive a nail straight—a condition of affairs which the school could not boast of before last fall, when the new branches were added to its curriculum.

The girls yesterday cooked bread, rolls, biscuit, pound cake, jelly cake, fruit cake and pies in endless variety—lemon, custard, peach, apple, apricot and gooseberry. But the girls can do more than cook. Miss McDermott figures that even the most domestic woman will spend comparatively little of her time in the kitchen, and the classes in sewing and lace-making as well as in all kinds of fancy work, have been industrious during the year and have made wonderful progress.

Prof. A. D. Alexander has charge of the boys' manual training classes. Nearly 250 pupils are in his charge, and their work has been in friendly rivalry with that of the girls. In drawing they have made enough work to fill the walls of a large room, and in the manual training department even greater progress has been made. The Humboldt boys make everything from turned wooden drinking cups and vases to tabouretties and parlor tables. There is scarcely any piece of furniture which they cannot turn out, and in the manufacture of fancy articles they are especially proficient.

RED FIRE AND MUSIC ON OLD YALE'S CAMPUS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 23.—Late tonight hundreds of Yale graduates, old and young, carrying red fire, paraded with bands the streets near the campus, making pandemonium in excess of reunion joy. They had their class banquets tonight after a day spent exclusively in reunion gatherings that began early with the general alumni meeting.

Speeches were made there by Samuel J. Elder, 1873, of Boston, who presided; Charlton T. Lewis 1885, William N. Law 1878, John P. Bartlett 1878, J. Stanley Brown 1885, the Rev. A. D. Leavitt 1900, and President Hadley.

United States Minister Bowen was a conspicuous graduate. He was surrounded by alumni whenever he appeared on the campus. Prof. Henry Hurd of Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, delivered the anniversary address to the graduating class of the medical school.

The Campbell gold medal was awarded to Herbert C. Gibner of Bridgeport, Conn., and the Keene prize to John H. Bailey of New Haven. The degree of M. D., cum laude, was awarded to Charles H. Farr, B. A., Athol, Mass.; Albert H. Garvin, Wethersfield, Mass.; H. C. Gibnor, Bridgeport, Conn., and John E. Lane, Hadley, Mass.

FORSWEARS HIS COUNTRY

Fugitive from Justice Locates in Canada and Will Take Oath of Allegiance to King.

COLUMBUS, O., June 23.—(Special.)—Thomas E. Steele, the Columbus attorney who has been a fugitive from justice since his conviction last December of using the mails within intent to blackmail, is now a resident of Toronto, Can., where he has lived under an assumed name since his disappearance from Columbus. He will swear allegiance to King Edward.

In an interview today Steele explains at length his reasons for fleeing from justice, his movements since he left this city and his intentions. He could not attend to the fact that his crime is not extraditable and says he will never set foot again on the soil of the United States. Of his crime he says:

"I am not morally, legally or technically guilty, but my conviction was brought about in the desperate struggle of enemies and alleged friends to shield others."

DISPUTE ABOUT PARKS.

The Eleventh Ward, Allegheny, School Divided Between Calhoun and Riverview.

A dispute has arisen in the Eleventh ward, Allegheny, as to where the annual school picnic is to be held this year. The school board has decided that the outing shall be held tomorrow in Calhoun park, while a number of the citizens declare they will have the picnic in Riverview park. Principal Gordon of the school said yesterday that no change has been made in the original plan, and that so far as he knew there would be none.

A delegation of Eleventh ward citizens yesterday received permission to hold a picnic in Riverview next Thursday.

The objection to the trip to Calhoun is that it will cost each child 30 cents—an expense that many of the parents do not feel disposed to meet.

The coroner's jury recommended that storekeepers be restrained from selling weapons of any kind to children, and that parents be more careful in permitting children to have them.

PETER CONNECTED WITH CONSPIRACY

The Man Now King of Servia Attended Meetings at Vienna When Plot Was Hatched.

VENADOVICH WAS A LEADER

Cousin of Prince Karageorgevich, Forced to Flee His Country, Became Head of the Exiles in the Austrian Capital King Reaches Capital Today.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

VIENNA, June 23.—Among all that has been written concerning the plot which terminated in the death of King Alexander and Queen Draga nothing has transpired regarding the part played by the so-called Servian revolutionary committee in Vienna. However, that these exiled men exercised a direct influence on the course of events there can be no question in the face of the abundant evidence forthcoming.

To trace the conspiracy to its inception it is necessary to go back to 1888, when King Alexander visited Vienna with his father. The object was to undergo a medical examination. A report by Viennese specialists described the king as suffering from a malady which sooner or later would affect his mental balance. In some unexplained manner it became known to a few members of the Servian committee in Vienna. From that date they renewed their activity in favor of the Karageorgevich family.

About this time one Venadovich first appeared on the scene. He was a cousin of Prince Peter and had become involved in some anti-Obrenovich intrigue in Servia and was obliged to flee the country. Arriving here, he soon assumed an important role and before long was recognized as the leading spirit of the revolutionary movement.

The meetings in Vienna were primarily held in the apartments of a certain Mme. Neschle, and were attended not only by these influential exiles permanently living in Vienna, but likewise by politicians and officials passing through the capital, who were known for their Karageorgevich leanings.

Peter Attended the Meetings.

It is asserted on reliable authority that on more than one occasion Prince Peter was present at the gatherings. Mme. Neschle suddenly saw fit to leave Vienna for Paris, while Prince Peter, who before then was a frequent visitor to the kaiserstadt, absented himself for several years.

The committee continued to meet, however, and grew stronger. By remaining in constant touch with the adherents of the Karageorgevich family in Servia every turn of the situation there was known. By those means the way was paved so that when the tidings of the tragedy actually did arrive the shock although great, was not so severe as had similar events occurred elsewhere.

There is no reason to doubt that the Servian revolutionists in Vienna were fully aware of what was going forward in Belgrade and were in many ways directly involved in the plot.

BELGRADE, June 23.—In accordance with instructions from their governments, the ministers of France, Holland and Turkey left Belgrade this afternoon.

King Peter's train, which left Geneva yesterday evening, passed through Innsbruck, Austria, this afternoon. The king was enthusiastically welcomed there by the Servian and Croatian students.

King Will Arrive Today.

The king will arrive here at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The foreign ministers who remain here intend going to the railroad station informally in frock coats instead of uniforms.

VIENNA, June 23.—King Peter arrived here from Geneva at 9:45 p. m. and left again for Belgrade at ten minutes past ten o'clock. In an interview which he gave while on his way hither, King Peter dwelt on the difficulty of punishing the assassins of King Alexander and Queen Draga, in view of their pardon by the Servian national assembly prior to his election as king.

DAUPHIN COUNTY JUDGE NAMED BY DEMOCRATS

Judge Pennypacker's Nominee Badly Defeated and Will Run Independent.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, June 23.—Judge Jacobs, Republican, an appointee of Governor Pennypacker, was beaten for the nomination for the full term of 10 years by William M. Hain, Democrat, in today's Democratic county convention by a vote of 103½ to 64½.

Jacobs will run as an independent candidate on the anti-machine ticket, nomination papers having been filed in his behalf today. Adolph Shive of Harrisburg was nominated for prothonotary and W. W. Wallower of Harrisburg for coroner. Hain was the choice of the adherents of Mayor Pritchey, while Jacobs was backed by Mayor McCormick and ex-Congressman Meyers.

The convention was very exciting and several times the police were called upon to maintain order. Jacobs' friends say Hain's nomination is irregular and threaten to contest it. Jacobs was appointed last winter to succeed the late Judge Simonton.

STILL TALKING ELEVATED.

Philadelphia Company Director Says Roads Will Likely Be Built in Pittsburgh.

NEW YORK, June 23.—(Special.)—The Wall Street Journal prints the following from Philadelphia:

"A Philadelphia Company director says that irrespective of the lapsing of the charters for elevated roads in Pittsburgh, acquired by the Philadelphia Company, it does not necessarily follow that Pittsburgh will not have elevated lines built within a few years. They might, he says, be constructed to advantage outside the actual business center, where the damages would not be too great—on Second and Liberty avenues for instance. Right in the heart of the city the matter of damages would be an obstacle."

MADE NEW HIGH RECORD.

Buying Orders from New Orleans Sends Cotton Market Above Former Prices.

NEW YORK, June 23.—One of the most exciting and spectacular upturns of the season in the cotton market occurred shortly after noon. The weekly crop report from Washington had just been read and received a bearish interpretation resulting in moderate declines. But almost immediately buying orders were received here from New Orleans and July was rushed up to 12.75. August 12.29 and September 11.89, all of these prices being new high records for the season. The new crop positions responded only partially to the strength in the months said to be controlled by the bull pool.

INOCULATION WAS FATAL.

THIS FISH STORY O'ERSHADOWS OTHERS AND MAY TAKE PRIZE AT ST. LOUIS FAIR.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BELLEFONTE PA., June 23.—The biggest trout ever caught in Pennsylvania was taken from the waters of Spring Creek, within Bellefonte borough limits a few days ago by Al. Hoffman. The trout was of the rainbow variety. It measured just 25 inches in length, was 5½ inches across the side, 3¼ inches across the back and weighed 6¼ pounds. The trout was caught with a common eel hook and troll that Hoffman had set at night for eels. In its mouth were found six fish hooks and pieces of troll line, showing that the trout had been a good biter and breakaway specialist. The trout was put on ice and kept on exhibition a day and then County Detective Joseph W. Rightnour, who the past two years has served as local fish warden, bought it and sent it to H. A. Surface of State college to be mounted and placed among the Pennsylvania exhibits at the St. Louis exposition. This evening M. Rightnour caught a trout at almost the same place measuring 19½ inches in length and weighing three pounds.

GIRL WITH SIX TOES WANTS TO FIND MOTHER

Strange Story of Abandonment of a Babe in Chicago Twenty Years Ago.

Margaret Hoffman has six toes on her left foot, but lacks a pair of parents. Margaret, when six weeks old, was left on the doorstep of Mrs. Bessie Nelson, No. 2204 State street, Chicago, by her mother, Mrs. Charles Hoffman. That was 20 years ago.

Now Margaret and her foster mother are anxious to find the girl's parents, and have asked the aid of the Pittsburgh police. They have discovered that the mother was twice married, but do not know the name of the first husband. Hoffman and his wife had two children, Margaret and a boy about three years older. The Hoffmans separated, the man going to Decatur, Ill., and the mother obtaining employment in a Pittsburgh glass factory. The woman is thought to be still living.

Mrs. Nelson gives no details as to how Baby Margaret came to be left on her doorstep.

ONE LYNCHER NOW IN PRISON

was shot in the back. The bullet which struck him evidently came from a pistol in the crowd, as it is claimed by the prison warden that his guards fired over the heads of the lynchers. Smith's condition is critical and he is not expected to live.

POSSE HUNTS FOR MAN.

Angry Citizens Expect to Lynch a Negro if He Is Captured.

ST. LOUIS, June 23.—Two women, one white, the other colored, were assaulted and left for dead about three and a half miles east of East St. Louis this afternoon, and a posse is looking for a negro described by one of his victims. If he should be captured it is believed there will be a lynching, for the double crime has caused great indignation among the farmers of the vicinity.

One of the victims, Mrs. Annie Green, colored, aged 25, was clubbed on the head, her skull fractured and left arm broken. Just before relapsing into unconsciousness, she told of the assault and described a light-colored negro as her assailant.

She was evidently the first victim of the man, who later appeared at the home of John Bruno, a farmer, living between East St. Louis and Belleville, and committed the second crime. A brother of Miss Flora Bruno returned home and found his sister lying on her bed in an unconscious condition. Her skull was fractured, both arms were broken and she was suffering from other injuries.

Young Bruno spread the alarm and a posse was hurriedly summoned and the country is being searched for the guilty man.

WILLIAMS CORNERED

Colored Murderer of Springfield Farmer Located in Vicinity of Chadds Ford.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—(Special.)—A message came over the telephone from Chadds Ford this afternoon saying that Elias William, the colored murderer of Percy White, the Springfield farmer, is in hiding close to the historic battlefield.

"We know where he is," said the message. "What we want to know is, have we the right to shoot him if he resists arrest?"

From a reliable source it is learned that Williams reached Chadds Ford late on Saturday night and inquired the way to Avondale. He went to the house of a colored resident and asked for something to eat. The wife of the house recognized Williams as a man who once worked with her husband. Neither of the persons who saw Williams knew of any crime having been committed at the time and permitted him to get away. It is hardly possible for Williams to escape.

CHESTER D. POTTER.

LYNCHING IMMINENT

New Jersey Citizens Searching for Two White Men Who Assaulted a Young Woman.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—(Special.)—Citizens of Merchantville are scouring thickets and unfrequented corners of that place for two white men who yesterday attacked Miss Louise Ward of this city, while the young woman was visiting a relative in the Jersey borough. Had the irate mob succeeded in their quest, a duplication of the Wilmington tragedy might have been consummated in Merchantville. Seven suspects were apprehended and dragged before the girl victim. She was unable to identify any of them, and all were released.

Miss Ward was visiting the Seaman family and was on her way to their home from Merchantville, yesterday afternoon when she was attacked. Her assailants were frightened by her screams and fled, leaving her in an unconscious state. They were out of sight when the girl recovered her senses.

Mr. Bell was very wealthy, owning property in Pittsburgh and farms in many parts of Allegheny county. He is survived by his two sons, James H., a lawyer, and George. Salt Rheum

You may call it eczema, tetter or milk crust.

But no matter what you call it, this skin disease which comes in patches that burn, itch, discharge a watery matter, dry and scale, owes its existence to the presence of humors in the system.

It will continue to exist, annoy, and perhaps agonize, as long as these humors remain.

It is always radically and permanently cured by which expels all humors, and is positively unequalled for all cutaneous eruptions.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

INFATUATED WOMAN IS SWINDLED BY HER MAID

Thought She Was Sending Money to Illicit Sweetheart, but Servant Got It Instead.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 23.—Richard S. Thorman, who was granted a divorce from his wife today, testified that he first learned that she loved another through a newspaper item.

Last October he read in a newspaper that his wife had her colored maid's sweetheart arrested in Chicago for swindling her out of $1,000. Mrs. Thorman told the police she had been engaged to Edward Martin, who lived on the floor below, and to him had sent money at different times. After meeting him three times she received a letter purporting to have been written by him, in which he said he loved her, but that she must not get him for less than a year. Shortly after she received a letter in which Martin asked for money. She sent it and more letters followed, with requests for various sums. She invariably responded with the cash. A negro maid brought the messages and carried away the money.

Every night Mrs. Thorman would call down the tube to Martin. One of the conspirators would imitate Martin's voice in reply. The male which the infatuated woman sent down to Martin were eaten by the maid and her sweetheart.

HAMILTON'S

You Can Save Money On Your Pianos

It is by taking advantage of other people's necessities that successful people get ahead in the world. There is nothing unfair about it. Take for example the present situation at Hamilton's. Here are a lot of new pianos coming in—200 in all—and Hamilton's have to make room for them by getting rid of a large portion of their regular stock.

Of course, Hamilton's secured a great bargain in the 200 pianos referred to.

They were bought from a retiring manufacturer at a tempting price. But in order to avail themselves of this stroke of good fortune Hamilton's have to divide up with their customers. That's why prices have been cut away down on practically all of the regular stock.

You simply can't neglect an opportunity like this.

Here are high-grade pianos selling at $165 and upwards. And you can make your selection from such pianos as the Schumann, Smith & Barnes, Williard, New England, Cable & Sons, Biddle, Hamilton and others, at $75 to $150 under regular prices.

Also some used A. B. Chase, Fischer and other pianos at very low prices. Square pianos at $15 and organs at $10.

You may pay all cash or in monthly payments, as best suits your convenience.

If you can't call, send for complete list, which gives details and prices.

TEN MILLION BUSHELS OF COAL FOR SOUTHERN PORTS TODAY

Rivermen Expect from 15 to 18 Feet of Water on the Present Rise.

ALL RECORDS TO BE BROKEN

Largest Shipment That Ever Left Pittsburgh in One Day—Altogether, It Is Estimated That 25,000,000 Bushels Will Go Out on the Water.

Ten million bushels of coal will go out today. This will be the largest shipment that ever left Pittsburgh in a single day.

The river prophets, who recently predicted a June rise within a few days in the face of contrary indications, are happy. The heavy rains of the past few days had filled the harbor, and all the water which fell Sunday and Monday contributed directly to raising the rivers. The Allegheny is coming out strong, and therefore the rise will be a good one and last for some time. Fifteen feet is prophesied by the knowing ones, and many are sure 18 feet will be reached.

Men are being hurried from near points, and even from as far as Louisville. The boats will all be manned by night. There are plenty of captains and pilots available, but laborers are scarce. As few foreigners as possible will be called upon to work on the boats, but many of them will find places.

Greatest Shipment on Record.

This will be the greatest shipment that has ever gone out on a single rise. The amount of the coal in the harbor and pools to go out on this rise is roughly estimated at 25,000,000 bushels, most of which is owned by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke and the C. Jutte companies.

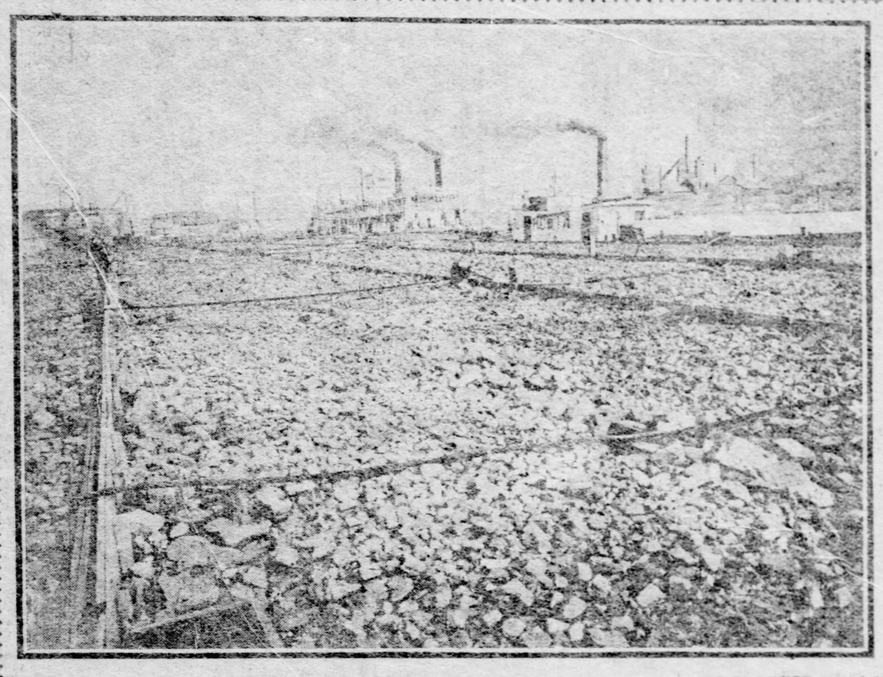
The towboats already hitched up, and the number of pieces in each tow are: Monongahela Consolidated Coal & Coke Company, Defender, 17 boats, three barges; Alice Brown, 17 boats, 3 barges; J. B. Finley, 24 boats; J. B. Williams, 24 boats; Charlie Brown, 12 boats, 7 barges; John A. Wood, 17 boats, 3 barges; Sam Clark, 12 boats, 7 barges; Iron Age, 23 barges; Ed Roberts, 25 barges; Tom Dodsworth, 17 boats; Tom Reese, 12 boats, 5 barges; John Moren, 17 barges; James Moren, 17 boats, 2 barges; Boaz, 17 boats, 3 barges; Coal City, 17 boats, 3 barges; Raymond Horner, 17 boats, 3 barges. These steamers have been already to leave for weeks, but will not get away till this morning.

The Charlie Brown, Sam Clark, Iron Age and Ed Roberts have light tows, and left early this morning. As soon as the water reached nine feet at Davis Island dam the captains started down the river, so as to leave as much room as possible for the other tows, which will start out today.

Will Start Right Back.

The Valiant, Mariner and Enterprise will arrive this morning and each will be hitched to 17 barges and sent out immediately. The Pacific No. 2, Iron Sides, Jim Wood, Dave Wood and Josh Cook are being hurried up the river so as to arrive in time to take out tows. These steamers will also have 17 barges each. C. Jutte & Co. will have the Gleaner, P. M. Pfeil, Flint and Crescent out with about 1,500,000 bushels. The G. W. Thomas is returning to help get this company's coal out.

A. R. Budd will send out the Frank Gilmore and S. B. Goucher with tows to meet the Harvester, which is returning. The Jack Frost from Cincinnati has been tied up to 18 barges of the Dilworth Company's coal for the past few weeks, and will also get away today. The Clyde Coal Company will send out tows, and each of the other independent coal companies will add something to this great shipment. Coal is scarce in the river markets, and a good price will be had for this, as it is mostly from pools Nos. 1 and 2, which furnish the best quality of bituminous coal. The lower rivers are in good condition for floating big tows, and no trouble is expected from this source.



Acres of Coal Waiting Upon the Rise.

ATTACKS ON THE CHURCH DEPLORED BY PONTIFF

Pope Says Christian Laws Seem to Be Undergoing Retrogression.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, June 23.—The Observatore Romano today publishes the allocution which the pope delivered at the consistory yesterday. The following is a summary of the portion which was not cabled yesterday:

The pontiff said he was obliged again to call attention to the different position of Catholicism and to point out that malicious sects were spreading in every country, and that Christian laws seem to be undergoing deliberate retrogression through the efforts of men of deplorable morals. This state of feeling modified customs and influenced legislation in connection with public institutions. Philosophy, the fine arts, and literature, were also turned to sacrelligious purposes.

The sinfulness of evil-doers could not frustrate the will of the Almighty, but their arrogance paved the way for great misfortunes.

The pope concluded with an earnest appeal to the faithful to pray to God that the pontiff's work on earth be not diminished and with the announcement of his intention to issue a letter on the subject.

Tube Company Extensions.

Over 15 miles of steel rails are to be laid by the National Tube Company at McKeesport. The greater portion of the recently acquired land is to be devoted to freight yards. Work will be started with the razing of a viaduct across the railroad tracks at Riverton, which is used by the Pittsburgh Railways Company, but it partly on the tube mill property. It is expected that the work will not be completed in less than three years.

Must Provide Own Water Works.

The council of West Homestead borough has decided to erect a water works, and plans are now being considered. The borough has been supplied with water by Homestead, but that borough recently notified West Homestead that it would be unable to furnish a further supply. At a special meeting of the council last night, it was estimated that $51,234 would be required to build the plant, and it is thought that the matter will be decided finally at the next meeting of the Munnall council.

Another Thousand Pledged.

Secretary George H. Anderson of the chamber of commerce stated yesterday that he had received pledges of $1,000 more towards the $25,000 needed to complete the fund for the Pittsburgh exhibit at the St. Louis exposition. The chamber has now $5,000 pledged and with the $10,000 appropriation expected from the city councils, thinks the fund will be raised in a short time.

Four Horses Killed in Accidents.

Four valuable horses were killed in Homestead as the result of accidents yesterday. Two horses owned by Joseph Hughes, an undertaker of Eighth avenue, ran off and were killed by a train on the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. A car on the Pittsburgh Railways struck a team of horses owned by C. A. Hamilton on Eighth avenue and injured them so seriously that it was necessary to kill both animals.

Aged Couple Licensed to Wed.

SHARON, PA., June 23.—(Special.)—William M. Sall, aged 71 years, and Mrs. Mary Aldenderfer, aged 66, both of Greenville, were yesterday granted a license to wed. The wedding is scheduled for this week.

T. J. FORD NAMES SOME OF HIS COMMITTEES

Republican Chairman Selects Men to Make New Rules and Settle Contest.

Thomas J. Ford, chairman of the Republican county committee, has named some of his committees. The men who will assist him in an advisory capacity and those who will look after the finances have not been selected. Yesterday he announced these appointments:

Committee on rules—W. A. Magee, Jr., Pittsburgh; George W. Shaman, Allegheny; George P. Murray, Bridgeville; Samuel Millison, McKeesport, Charles W. Gardner, Millvale.

Committee on contested seats—W. T. Treadway, Coraopolis; Dr. S. S. Woodburn, Allegheny; William C. McKinley, Pittsburgh; George Q. Holmes, Allegheny; Dr. G. H. Scott, Verona; John A. Braun, Shaler township; Henry G. Wasson, Pittsburgh.

Committee on collection of roll—Edward G. Schwartzwaelder, Pittsburgh; Albert McGibeny, Baldwin township; Joseph G. Armstrong, Pittsburgh; William Eichenlaub, Allegheny; Charles W. Kiser, Wilkinsburg; A. L. Large, Ben Avon; George W. Gosser, Pittsburgh.

An appeal was taken to the supreme court yesterday by Samuel P. Conner against whom a writ of ouster was issued, requiring him to surrender the county office of delinquent tax collector to R. G. Mattern, the appointee of County Treasurer Collingwood. By reason of the writ of ouster having been issued, it is necessary for Mr. Conner's attorneys to go into common pleas court No. 2, or to the supreme court for a supersedeas that Mr. Conner may retain the office until a final decision of the higher court. Mr. Conner says that the supersedeas will be prayed for today, in the county court, and if it is refused there, the supreme court will be appealed to. The granting of the supersedeas will be contested by Attorney George H. Calvert, representing Mattern, but should it be granted Mr. Conner will at least held office until the October term of the supreme court.

TWO BOYS DROWNED.

One Was Playing on a Flatboat and the Other Was Bathing.

While playing on a flatboat Albert C. Martin, 9 years old, of Redmans Mills, Baldwin township, fell into the Monongahela river yesterday afternoon and was drowned. His body was recovered half an hour later.

Robert Sims, 12 years old, of No. 4812 Plummer street, who has been missing from his home since Sunday, was drowned in the Allegheny river at the foot of Forty-third street while bathing on Sunday. Sing's death was learned of yesterday through companions who saw him sink.

Peculiar Case of Smallpox.

Mabel Dulaney, a 14-year-old girl, whose home is at Waynesburg, Greene county, was removed from Mercy hospital yesterday, having developed smallpox to the municipal hospital. She had been at Mercy hospital since May 18, where she underwent an operation for the removal of a piece of bone from her leg. She had about recovered and was to leave the hospital in a few days. She contracted the disease somehow in the hospital. The ward she was in was quarantined. Other patients found with the disease yesterday were Pearl Burtaft, 19 years old, of No. 2022 Tustin street, and Thomas Johnson, colored, 27 years old, of the rear of No. 61 Pride street.

No More Auto Speeding.

Supt. of Police McTighe has issued an edict against automobilists, and declares that the new state law governing the speed of machines will be rigidly enforced. McTighe's efforts to curb rash automobilists is prompted by Monday's accident, in which Mildred Knapp, a 10-year-old daughter of Henry Knapp of No. 221 South Euclid avenue, was seriously injured by a machine.

No Official Bottlers.

Since the court refused to recognize the applications of the "official bottlers" of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, there has been considerable speculation among the politicians as to who will supply the disorderly houses. Mayor Hays says there will be no "official bottler" during his administration, and every wholesale dealer in the city will be permitted to sell to any person he may see fit. City employes will not be allowed to "tout" for any bottler.

Oppose Sunday Park Amusements.

A large meeting of the church people of Braddock was held last night to adopt measures to suppress the alleged desecration of the Sabbath at Kennywood park. A committee of seven was appointed to confer with committees from Homestead, Duquesne and McKeesport, where similar meetings have been held.

Newsies Have a Picnic.

The residents of the Newsboys' home held their annual picnic at Kennywood park yesterday, and a very happy and well-behaved party of picnickers they were. Dinner and supper were served in the park. The Hungry Petes defeated the Table Finishers in a game of baseball by a score of 4 to 2.

Kindergarten Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of managers of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association will be held in the assembly room of the Kindergarten college, in Fifth avenue, Oakland, next Friday morning, at 10:30 o'clock.

STOCKHOLDERS' VOTE FAVORS INCREASE

Manufacturers Light and Heat Will Add to Both Capital Stock and Bonds.

Out of 402,247 shares of issued stock of the Manufacturers Light & Heat Company, 327,705 shares were voted in favor of the propositions laid before the shareholders by the management at the special meeting yesterday. There were no votes in opposition to the plans.

The two propositions were the increase of the capital stock from $21,500,000 to $25,000,000, and the increase of the bonded indebtedness from $8,999,000 to $10,499,000, an addition of $6,500,000. The officers of the company were re-elected, with the exception of one director, L. B. Beatty retiring, and James Kuntz, Jr., of Washington, Pa., taking his place on the board.

The officers now are: President, H. B. Beatty; first vice president, O. H. Strong; second vice president, L. A. Meyran; treasurer, E. H. Myers, all of whom are members of the board with H. M. Nichols, E. V. Selden, F. N. Chambers, Henry I. Beers, George W. Crawford, David Iseman and James Kuntz.

The purpose of the increase of bonds is to take up $8,75,00 of the bonds of the Ft. Pitt Gas Company, acquired a few months ago by the Manufacturers, and to build the new large pipe line to the West Virginia field of the company.

Notice of the July dividend is given this morning. The company will pay one and one-half per cent July 20. The transfer books will be closed from July 10 to July 20.

The Manufacturers proposes to make an advance in the price of its gas in a number of localities bringing all in this way to the Pittsburgh basis. The price in many places now is 20 cents per 1,000 feet. The new price will be 27 cents with a reduction of 2 cents on bills paid within the 10-day limit. The increase will go into effect after August 31.

MUST REMAIN IN RANKS.

Devery Defeated in His Effort to Get on a Tammany Executive Committee.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 23.—The court of appeals today sustained the judgment of the lower court, in the case of Peter J. Garvey against the New York county Democratic committee and well-known Tammany leaders, reversing an order of the special term which directed a peremptory mandamus requiring recognition of Garvey as representative of the Ninth assembly district, controlled by former Chief of Police W. S. Devery. The decision is a defeat of Devery in his efforts to secure a place on the executive committee of Tammany hall.

The Heziep—Wanamaker Wedding.

A quiet wedding was held at the Hotel Schenley last evening, the bride being Miss Sarah B. Hezlep, the daughter of Mrs. Sarah Bushnell Hezlep of Oakland, formerly of Allegheny, and the bridegroom Horace Wanamaker, a son of Samuel M. Wanamaker and a nephew of John Wanamaker of Philadelphia and New York. The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. Maitland Alexander. The bride, who was prettily gowned in white, was attended by her sister, Miss Eleanor B. Hezlep and R. Sargent Wanamaker, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock and immediately after the wedding supper the bride and bridegroom left for a trip.

Fourth of July on the Hilltop.

The Hilltop board of trade last night completed arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration. Further contributions to the fund for the event, are as follows: Hill Top Brewing Company, $10; W. J. Payne, $5; Cash, $5; W. C. Bernadi, $5; Pittsburgh Railways Company, $100; Cash, $5; Horne, Stewart & Co., $5; A. M. Byers & Co., $15; the Manufacturing Light and Heat Company, $50; Gusky's, $5; Kauffmann Bros., $5; N. Solomon & Co., $5. The committee requests that all checks and cash for the fund be mailed to the Hill Top Trust Company.

Watchmen Organize.

The watchmen and dispatchers met last night to discuss the matter of wages and other matters to their interests. They decided they were entitled to 20 or 25 cents an hour and double pay for Sundays, Thanksgiving day, Christmas, Fourth of July, Labor day and all legal holidays. It was also decided that no labor be done by any watchmen, as the insurance companies and fire commissioner's underwriters do not permit them to work.

BODY DISAPPEARS.

It Was in the Morgue, but Now Cannot Be Found.

Mystery surrounds the disappearance of the body of Mary Bierhurst, who died in the Allegheny county jail Sunday of alcoholism. The body was removed to the morgue and identified by her husband, Henry Bierhurst of No. 124 Lippert street, Millvale, Monday.

Yesterday an undertaker called at the morgue to get the body, but was informed the body was not there. Neither Coroner McCleary or the deputies were able to explain where the body had been taken to or what had become of it. Bierhurst called at the morgue last night, but was unable to get any information about the remains of his wife.

Negro Cut His Foreman.

James Gallagher, foreman of a gang of workmen employed by the Pennsylvania railroad at the foot of Inwood street, was cut by a negro yesterday afternoon. The men quarreled and the negro drew a knife. The cuts were not severe, and the negro, whose name is unknown, escaped.

HILL CITIZENS ARE VERY ANGRY

Thirteenth Ward Reformers Indignant That Detective Wallace Be Charged to Them.

JUST CAME FROM OHIO

Was Not Even in Pittsburgh in Time to Vote for Hays—D. M. Miller Says He Is Bigelow's Choice for District Attorney.

Thirteenth ward Citizens who worked for the election of William B. Hays and received a brick for their efforts are indignant that "Buck" Wallace, fresh from Ohio, should be appointed a city detective and credited to their ward.

Wallace was quietly given a place on the detective force a week ago and his appointment did not become public until yesterday. His friends say that he is a personal appointee of the mayor and was given the job on account of boyhood friendship. The Thirteenth ward men who were refused city positions can not appreciate the sentiment in the matter and are demanding that the man shall not be credited to their ward.

Wallace was once a saloon keper in Wylie avenue and when he lost his license he went to Canton, O. There he conducted a drinking place in Whisky alley. Hard luck eventually hit him and last March he drifted back to Pittsburgh, a month too late to vote for his friend Hays. Last week the mayor placed him on the rolls as a detective. His friends are delighted, for they say he was always a good fellow and a game sport.

The new charter has a provision that men in the police service must have been a resident of the state for at least a year preceeding their appointment. As Wallace has not been in Pennsylvania over four months, Controller John E. Larkin will probably raise the question when payday comes round.

D. M. Miller, assistant United States attorney said yesterday that he is still confident that he will be the fusion nominee for district attorney. He says that Thomas S. Bigelow favors his selection. Miller is just a bit uneasy about the attitude of the Democrats.

Inspector Henry W. Whitehouse, whose dismissal has been recommended by the police board is, according to Councilman C. Beckert, Jr., of the Fourteenth ward, to be given something equally as good. Whitehouse, who has been connected with the police force for 15 years, is to be appointed on the detective bureau, so it is reported.

Strong pressure was brought to bear upon Director Moore to retain Whitehouse as inspector, but Moore said this could not be done. A successor to Whitehouse has not yet been named.

Prisoners Had Plenty of Explosives.

CANON, COL., June 23.—Enough giant powder and nitro-glycerine were found in the penitentiary today to blow up the entire prison. The discovery was made after the convicts, who had attempted to escape yesterday, had been put through the sweating process.

SECRET CHAMBERS USED FOR SPEAKEASY PURPOSES FOUND

A mystery which has baffled the police of Homestead for many years, was explained yesterday when a number of workmen commenced tearing down a large double frame house in City Farm lane and discovered three large chambers underneath the building with a secret passway leading to it, similar to the famous cellar of "Moriarty" in the "Sherlock Holmes" tales.

The building for many years was known to be one of the most notorious speakeasies in Homestead, but the police were repeatedly blocked in their efforts to raid it. The house was recently purchased by Morris Franklo and while workmen were raising it they discovered the secret chambers under the house. The floor of the building had been carefully built and a trap door concealed it. A winding stairway was built into the chamber. The rooms under the house were about 15 feet deep and so arranged that the house might be raised by the police a hundred times and with the liquors and documents concealed in the underground chamber there was small fear of discovery. The chamber bore every evidence of having been used for the storage and sale of liquor.

Franklo, the present owner, announced after the discovery that he would have sufficient brick from the underground chambers to erect a large portion of the proposed new building he will erect on the site.

CRUSADE IS OPENED ON THE JEWISH SHECTERS

Director Moore Wants Regulations Adopted for Killing of Chickens and Other Fowl.

Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety, proposes to inaugurate a new crusade, this time against members of the Hebrew race. Director Moore has obtained a call for a meeting of the public safety committee of councils this week, to pass an ordinance directed against Jewish "shecters," who are alleged to disregard health requirements in the killing of chickens, geese, ducks and other fowl according to the method of the Mosaic faith.

The ordinance was introduced in councils in July, 1902, and was referred to the public safety committee. It has been there since, and Director Moore wants it resurrected, made a law and rigorously enforced.

The bill provides first, that "shecters" who desire to kill any kind of fowl within the built-up portions of the city, according to the peculiar method required by the Hebrew religion, must obtain permits from the bureau of health, and to secure these permits they must have concrete floors, with drain to a central sewer, walls of tile, cement, tiling or other material that will not absorb blood, and that these rooms must be washed thoroughly and disinfected every day. Failure to comply with these regulations means a fine of not less than $5, nor more than $25.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS QUIT.

Diversity of Opinion as to Why They Resigned from Board.

The South sub-district school board, Second ward, has lost two old members. John McIlroy and Thomas Scott. It is said they left the board on account of the recent election of teachers, but the remaining members insist they had removed from the ward.

At the last meeting of the board the old corps of teachers was re-elected, except Miss Lang, whose place was given to Miss Edna Brown. W. D. McAuliffe was elected janitor, the old janitor retiring.

Immediately after Messrs. McIlroy and Scott tendered their resignations and left the board, one of the vacancies was filled by electing Charles E. Porter a member of the board, but the other still exists. Miss Lang was elected a teacher of the Crafton schools the night after the South board rejected her.

A STIRRING NOVEL FROM THE HEART OF THE GREAT OIL FIELDS

The Triumph

By ARTHUR STANWOOD PIER

$1.50

Illustrated by W. D. STEVENS

"The Triumph" has local color, too, but it is a story before anything else, and an interesting one. N. Y. Sun.

It is a veritable human document in its depiction of the ambitions, rivalries, prejudices, self-satisfactions, passions, prides and prejudices of a small town. N. Y. World.

Intensely modern, an acute emotional study, brisk of dialogue, and healthy as to moral tone, it proves a bright oasis in a desert of pointless fiction. Philadelphia Item.

The Petticoats.

Inexpensive Shirtwaist Suits.

Inexpensive is hardly the word for the remarkable prices which the Suit Department of the second floor is quoting for these smart suits. The best way to say it would be to use that good old expression, downright cheap. No woman has any excuse for not dressing neatly when such small sums are named for Summer Suits.

$2. White and black lawn Shirtwaist Suits, stripes and small dots; front of waist pleated; 7 gore flare skirt, finished at bottom with three small ruffles.

Wednesday, June 24, 1903.

Building operations will be resumed today where they have been suspended on account of the quarrel between bricklayers and masons. The points in dispute will be arbitrated afterward. This is gratifying, but small consolation can be extracted from a look backward at the loss of wages and delays in building operations due to the groundless quarrel.

Severe rules have been laid down by the Fayette county courts governing sales of beer by breweries. They are not without amusing features, however, as when the order of court declares that orders for weddings, christenings and other merry-makings shall not be taken by agents, but must be booked at the breweries. This clause readily suggests the character of some Fayette county social functions, though its plainest purpose is to prevent breweries outside the county from furnishing the malt basis for the festivities. The humor is more apparent than real to those who are familiar with the weddings, christenings and funerals of certain elements of the Fayette population.

Lynching in Delaware is as disgraceful as in Georgia, Louisiana or Illinois. There is absolutely no excuse for the Prices Corners and Wilmington mob. The victim was a self-confessed murderer and would unquestionably have paid the death penalty for his revolting crimes, by due process of law. The mob that disgraced its members and the state of Delaware by shooting and burning at the stake inflicted no greater penalty than the law would have done, for the criminal had but one life to lose. It added nothing to the legal warning to evil doers. On the contrary, they set an example of lawlessness that will surely return to plague their community. In effect, the mob has said that might is right, a doctrine as false as it is mischievous.

It is gratifying to have the assurance from Washington that no irregularities have been discovered in the Pittsburgh postoffice. No one in this city was apprehensive that any wrong would be found in the Pittsburgh mail service, for all are familiar with the careful administration of the local office during several terms. Nevertheless it is matter for congratulation that the Washington authorities have so promptly certified the business conduct of an office that has grown phenomenally during late years and which is in constant need of extension. On the other hand, it is evidence of the vigor, thoroughness and impartiality of the investigation that is being made of all postal affairs. President Roosevelt is obviously going to the bottom, and will be as fearless in prosecuting the guilty as he is ready to certify the good character of the innocent.

While the excessive rains have been rather injurious than beneficial to growing crops, there is a silver lining to the clouds. First and foremost in the consideration of Pittsburgh is a fine run of coal to Ohio and Mississippi ports, probably the largest single shipment ever made. In the rural regions there has been marked improvement in the meadows, so sadly stunted by the May drought. When it is remembered that the grass crop is the most valuable of all crops, this is seen to be no mean consideration. There will be wheat and corn in plenty for all home demands and some for export, anyway, but a shortage of grass means high-priced milk, butter and meat and an unnatural demand for cereals. The silver lining to the cloud is worth while.

In Allegheny there is a prospect of reform in spite of the "reformers." The ordinance to abolish the fee system of the delinquent tax collector's office is getting much influential support. It is understood the mayor is opposed to the bill, and it has even been asserted he will veto it if passed. But there is a possibility of passing it over the veto. In Pittsburgh, however, where a salary ordinance is proposed, there is talk that no change can be made without aid of the legislature. In fact, there is confusion on the subject except in regard to the fact that the officials who promised reform in the delinquent tax offices before election are not eager to carry out their pledges now. If the fee system be abolished it will be despite protesting reformers.

It is announced that councils are to take up and pass the ordinance proposing a tax upon the gross receipts of all corporations enjoying public franchises, which has so long lain neglected in committee. This is good news so far as it goes, but it does not go very far. It is good because it betokens remembrance of campaign pledges and uneasy conscience. It falls short of effectiveness because it is proposed to advance for one year the date on which it is to become operative. That period will cover two important local elections and leave an ample margin of time for the repeal of the measure if the public service corporations render the political service that may be expected of them. From the first there has been some doubt about the power of the city to impose such a tax upon corporations whose franchises were granted without conditions. It would be more to the purpose to make the ordinance operative at the earliest possible date and allow the year from the first of July, prox., for threshing out in the courts the questions of authority and constitutionality. An ordinance that is not to be put in force for a year takes on more the character of a threat than that of a revenue measure.

The Railroad Ordinance.

An interesting meeting of the committee on corporations may be expected this evening, when it meets to consider the Pennsylvania railroad ordinance. The situation has developed some remarkable conditions, political, and some even more remarkable propositions for the amendment of the ordinance. Matters of this sort ought not to be made footballs of politics. There are no partisan questions involved and playing public business for factional advantage is reprehensible.

The questions before the committee and before councils are entirely practical and ought to be considered from a purely business point of view, with an eye single to promoting the interest of the city. It should be no difficult matter to protect the municipality against any and all claims for costs or damages resulting from relocation of the Pennsylvania terminal tracks and incidental changes of grade. It is a little more difficult to decide upon the proper measure of compensation to be exacted. At the beginning of this problem it must be realized, however, that the Pennsylvania railroad has possession of Liberty avenue under a grant 50 years old, and that it cannot be ousted at the will of councils. For that reason its offer to restore that thoroughfare to the city becomes a compensation of inestimable value. It is of such great value that the question of time becomes important. Thus a vacation of Liberty avenue within two years with no other compensation for the privilege to construct the Duquesne way elevated is more valuable to the city than a vacation with a rental, say of $50,000 a year, that would involve a delay of 25 years, or even of 10 years. That is the paramount consideration. Of course, there would be no objection on the part of taxpayers if the railroad company would consent to other compensation in addition to the prompt removal of tracks from Liberty avenue. The point we make is that the removal of those tracks is of such vital importance to the welfare of the city that it ought not to be jeopardized by demands for other payment that will decide the railroad company to abandon the elevated project and hold on to the grant it has.

Of the proposal for joint use of the elevated road with other corporations, it may be justly said that the business of the Pennsylvania would leave little opportunity for other traffic. One object of the change is to enable more prompt handling of that traffic than is now possible, in the interest of Pittsburgh shippers. Congestion of traffic on the elevated, or quarrels over the right of way, would be of no benefit to the city. It would be reasonable to permit a crossing of the elevated tracks under proper restrictions, in the event that it might become advisable at some future time to grant privileges to other railroads for elevated roads.

Once again we desire to impress the fact that the most vital interest at stake is relief of the congestion on downtown streets. Nothing can contribute more to this than the opening of Liberty avenue to ordinary traffic and the removal of incidental interference by the railroad on streets that cross Liberty. Great increase in the value of property will accrue in the directly affected quarter and business on other streets will be facilitated. Every man with eyes to see knows this relief is urgent.

Finally, it may be said this whole problem would have been greatly simplified if Pittsburgh had the Baltimore system of estimating franchises. A board of estimates would have made an agreement with the railroad company on a business basis, as might be done by two private corporations. Councils would have to consider a measure fair to both parties to the contract. Under the system we have, on the contrary, there are multiple views; propositions reasonable and unreasonable; warring factions and diverse interests that threaten to culminate in a wicked blunder or an interminable hold-up, to the detriment of the whole people.

The Clouds Got Bunched.

When the weather man got into the evening papers of Monday with a message to the people announcing "showers tonight; continued showers tomorrow," he meant just what he said. The rain came, too, as predicted, but if what happened is properly classified as showers the people of this community don't want the weather man to announce a cloudburst until they have their arks built and the animals all on board. We have no doubt, on our own part, that the colonel's intentions were to have showers and let it go at that, but while he wasn't looking some one monkeyed with the rain machine and the water all came out during the night. "Showers tonight and continued showers tomorrow," if the English language is what it used to be before we annexed Porto Rico and the Philippines, means a sandwich arrangement that compels the public to keep up a sort of umbrella drill. But the so-called showers of Monday night made it unanimous that umbrellas stay up, and yesterday, when the "continued showers" should have been doing business, the umbrella trade was at a standstill. Explanations are, of course, in order, and as we have private information as to just how it happened it is certainly a duty to make it public. There would have been showers Monday night and continued showers yesterday, properly spaced, but for the circumstance that some one out west mixed the clouds and sent on the whole bunch at once instead of holding yesterday's allotment until the proper time. The colonel commanding the local station had gone to lunch when the drizzle began, satisfied that all was in order, and when he got back it was too late. The result was that the rains intended for yesterday got spaced in between the showers scheduled for Monday night and made a continuous performance of it, leaving all the dry spots over to be bunched in a fair day yesterday. However, no one complains of that phase of the complication, and in the satisfaction it causes it is easily seen that the prediction was entirely all right, and that it was only the distribution that went wrong.

A Nut for Carnegie.

An important conversation between two eminent gentlemen, looking to the expenditure of millions for the public benefit, was interrupted some months ago, but communication between them is now restored under circumstances that eliminates privacy of discussion and admits the public into their confidence. At least it will be assumed that communication has been restored, for the question asked by the one has now been answered by the other, and as the United States of America was used for a sounding board we do not doubt that the information sought has reached or will speedily reach the inquirer at his Scotch castle. At the anniversary banquet at St. Andrew's college, the oldest in Scotland, Andrew D. White, former president of Cornell university and former ambassador to Germany, sat next to Andrew Carnegie—two Andrews at St. Andrew's. Mr. Carnegie sought information of Mr. White as to the good things that remained for millionaires to do in the United States. Before Mr. White could unfold, the conversation was interrupted and there was no opportunity to resume it. Monday night, however, at the semi-centennial of his own class at Yale, at which 35 of the 43 members yet alive were present, all of them more than 70 years old, he took occasion to tell what he wanted Mr. Carnegie to know. An initial expenditure of $14,000,000 is involved, but if Mr. Carnegie thinks well of it the cost will be a small barrier to realization of Mr. White's hope. But will he think well of it? Mr. White would educate young men in the practical patriotism of everyday public affairs, and for that purpose wants endowments in 25 American universities of professorships and fellowships for instruction of public affairs to fit the youth of America for office holding; of professorships and fellowships for study and teaching in administration, and after that of professorships and fellowships in the history of civilization and in American history; and then endowments "for the study of music and literature as inspiring accompaniments to civic virtue and public life." It is an ambitious program for instruction in good government, and now that it has been announced as for the particular information of Mr. Carnegie it will be interesting to learn what answer he will make. It adds to the interest that Mr. White, in telling of the prevalence of bad government to show the need of educating young men "to hold public office honestly, capably and intelligently," cited Pittsburgh as one of the places where the conditions are shameful. Whether these conditions can be cured by endowed chairs and fellowships is a problem, and we would like to know what Mr. Carnegie thinks of it. If the evils complained of could be cured by the devotion of the income of $14,000,000 to the purpose it would be money well spent, but dishonesty in municipal government can hardly be laid at the door of lack of education.

The Mexican Elections.

Mexico has again honored her "grand old man" and in the nomination of Porfirio Diaz to the presidency of the republic has overcome the growing scruples against the age of this old patriot and made him virtually her ruler for the seventh time. His elections were not consecutive, there being one term from 1880 to 1884 when his personal friend, Gen. Gonzales, was made president because of a constitutional barrier to the president succeeding himself. This barrier was easily removed and since 1884 Diaz has been continuously President of the republic of Mexico, a record altogether unprecedented in modern times. The recent primaries, however, developed a formidable sentiment against the re-election of the old man, inaugurated by his own declaration of desire to retire, and only the easy methods of Mexican politics which have been centered in the veteran prevented an actual revolt and the nomination of a younger man. Of course, this younger man would in all probability have been a friend and political ally of Diaz, but the old man is still preferred by those who have money invested in Mexican industries.

Porfirio Diaz has had a remarkable career. He was born in Oaxaca, Mexico, in 1830. As early as 1847 he was identified with Mexican political and military affairs, having fought during the war with the United States. He was a conspicuous leader against the French invasion and won signal victories over the forces of Maximilian, triumphantly entering the City of Mexico in 1867. Attaching himself to the Liberal party in the establishment of the republic, Diaz has since been the central figure in the material and political development of the country. Mexico is not an ideally governed state, but whatever of advancement and prosperity she has obtained has been in no small degree attributed to the wise and firm leadership of Diaz, who has not hesitated to declare his use of the United States as a model after which he has sought to run his government. The objection to him on account of his age is not without validity, and there are many who believe that his long term of office has rendered his future tenure of doubtful value, but it is evident that the people of Mexico, or those who control the rather loosely conducted national elections, still believe him to be the best governor. Probably the greatest detriment to the republic resulting from his long tenure of office is the difficulty that must some day be faced of finding another administrator capable of taking his place. Diaz has been "the state" to such an extent that no one else is "in training."

This Grows Amusing.

There is something positively humorous in the attitude of the Democratic enemies of the Hon. Grover Cleveland in relation to that gentleman's possible candidacy for the presidential nomination in 1904. Whether intentionally or not Mr. Cleveland has himself added a touch of humor here and there by the picturesque and wholly confusing way in which he has treated the question of his candidacy. In the early days of the present Cleveland revival men like Bryan and Col. Watterson attacked the idea fiercely and flamboyantly, pooh-poohing in the first place and vigorously denouncing it as impossible in the next. Soon the favor with which the idea seemed to be received astonished these gentlemen and awakened a buzz of comment, which the declaration at St. Louis from Norman E. Mack in no wise served to allay. At the Democratic dinner in New York and later in his own home at Princeton Mr. Cleveland spoke of the revival of his name in connection with the presidency in deprecatory terms, but no positive declination or hint of what he would do fell from his lips. A few days ago the Bryan Democrats drew a breath of something like relief. Mr. Cleveland had spoken. At least, a veracious gentleman by the name of Bailey, who hailed from Texas, we believe, gave out what he declared was an interview with the distinguished Princetonian. True, it was not very positive, but in the straits in which Mr. Cleveland's enemies were it served an excellent turn, and the comment from Louisville to Lincoln was blandly to the effect that Mr. Cleveland had put himself out of the running and should therefore be no longer considered as a presidential possibility. But here is where Mr. Cleveland himself seems to be contributing to the gaiety of the situation, for he has come forward with a vigorous and emphatic denial and declares there has been gross exaggeration of his words without specifying particulars. The inference is, of course, that Mr. Cleveland does not propose to be quoted as declining the nomination should it be offered him, and the anti-Cleveland faction is up in the air again.

The perturbation of the Bryan-Watterson Democrats is not without good ground. Mr. Cleveland could have easily ended the whole discussion by a few direct words in the beginning without in any way compromising his dignity. He not only did not do this, but takes prompt and somewhat aggrieved means of heading off an imaginative interviewer who tried to make him delicately hint at the possibility of such a thing.

SEEN HIS DUTY AND DONE IT.

Why This Washington Cop Trailed a Farmer Around Town.

He was just from the country, any one could see that at a glance, says the Washington Post, and as he wandered down Pennsylvania avenue with an appreciative eye for the beauties of that thoroughfare, his tall figure and ambling gait were the subject of joking remarks from the corner gentility. Between his teeth he carried that ever-existing solace of the farmer, a huge chunk of tobacco, and the workings of his massive jaws seemed to inform the world that he was happy.

At Twelfth street he butted into a uniformed gentleman from the First precinct and paused in his walk to address a question or two to the guardian of the law. A hard look came into the policeman's eyes as he noticed the working jaws of the farmer, and when the son of toil continued his way, the cop was right behind him. "The major said the law must be enforced," he muttered, as he took a tighter grasp on his club and dodged behind a tree to escape the roving eyes of the rube.

The pursuit kept up for several blocks, and the passersby, beginning to wonder if the farmer was a confidence man in disguise, turned in their steps and followed the duo, eager to witness the denouement.

At Ninth street a wild-eyed, bareheaded man rushed up to the cop and besought his attention with excited gestures. "They're killing a man over there," he cried in trembling tones. "For heaven's sake, come quick!"

"Shi! Sh!" replied the cop. "I ain't got time. I think that farmer is going to spit on the sidewalk in a minute."

The Quiet Observer.

We look before and after,
And pine for what is not;
Our sincerest laughter
With some pain is fraught;
Our sweetest songs are those that tell of saddest thought.
—Shelley.

Haven't you noticed that most people take more kindly to sad songs than to those that are cheerful and jolly?

Is it because they like to have their heart strings played upon in minor key? Or is it because music has such a soothing influence that mirthful, rollicking words seem harsh and out of harmony with the melody?

Be the reason what it may, the fact remains that the more popular and enduring songs are plaintive in tone or the tune in minor key.

Take the Gilbert and Sullivan comic operas as an instance. We like the swing and the jingle of the music, the wit and the word play of the lines, the swagger and the rhythm of the movements generally, but how few of us recollect even to this day any of the songs, or unconsciously hum or whistle any of the airs.

But will we ever forget "The Last Rose of Summer," "The Heart Bowed Down," and others of their class?

* * * * *

Dear Quiet Observer—I enjoy reading your articles in The Gazette. But what was your idea of reciving the old songs? I think, and always did think, "Nellie Gray" was a silly kind of a song, and I don't feel as though I would be like the man who said it made him feel young again. I would rather sing the song which is more appropriate, which ran thus:

Chicora, Pa. A MARRIED WOMAN.

I cannot sing the old songs
I sang long years ago;
For heart and voice would fail me,
And foolish tears would flow.
For bygone hours come o'er my heart
With each familiar strain,
I cannot sing the old songs,
Or dream those dreams again.

I cannot sing the old songs,
Their charm is sad and deep,
Their melodies would waken
Old sorrows from their sleep.
And tho' all unforgotten still,
And sadly sweet they be,
I cannot sing the old songs,
They are too dear to me.

I cannot sing the old songs,
For visions come again
Of golden dreams departed,
And years of weary pain.
Perhaps when earthly fetters shall
Have set my spirit free,
My voice may know the old songs
For all eternity.

Fortunately we are not all alike in matters of taste and feelings—fortunately for the world, for sameness is monotony, and monotony is stagnation, and stagnation is the beginning of death.

Were it otherwise there would be but one song, one chord, one tune. There would be such a lack of variety in life that there would be no use in living, for each succeeding generation would be just like the preceding, and one generation of a kind is enough.

Nature's scheme is that each succeeding generation shall be a decided improvement on the one before, and to carry out this scheme perfectly each man and woman of the present generation should be an improvement on the man and woman preceding them. Not to excel your father and mother is a sign of degeneration, at least from the original point of view.

Children of this generation should excel those of the last in health, strength, intelligence, culture, manners—excel in all that goes to make progressive men and women; for men and women, as you know, are only children of a little larger growth.

And it is a fact, whether you have recognized it or not, that the characters of men and women are formed in their youth, and mostly in childhood, even while yet nona too large to lounge in mother's lap, or go riding to "Banbury Cross" on papa's foot.

It is here that men and women get their first lessons—lessons that shape and mold the foundations upon which their characters are founded and their lives built.

* * * * *

How is it with the children you know, or in whom you feel a deep or peculiar interest? Do they show signs of being improvements on their forbears, of being better than the old stock, of doing greater things than have been done? Are they stronger physically and mentally, healthier in body and spirit, purer in heart, nobler in soul than those who brought them into being to develop and train for the race of life?

Sad to say, but the fact is that many of them don't look it. They have the form and features of children, but they seem to have been neglected, sadly neglected.

Indeed, the negligence, of which we see signs in the children, began long before they were born, even while their parents were children as they are now. Instead of being trained into model men and women, and taught the better ways of life, they were allowed to grow up like colts that roam over large pasture ranges, without the restraint of halter or whip, until too fully grown to become easily tractable or to acquire a winning gait.

It is hardly reasonable to expect men and women thus educated, trained and disciplined to mate well, save by accident, and that is the beginning of the higher life, not only of human life, but of all animal and vegetable life.

Yes; how is it with those children for whom you profess to be toiling, and believe you are providing for in the best possible way?

Look them over carefully, even as you would colts that you expect to enter for the derby, for they must enter the great derby, with or without your consent.

* * * * *

For some reason or other a great many children appear old for their years, seeming more like little men and women, and without the characteristic tastes and dispositions of the children who have grown into great men and good women in the past.

Your good friend, and the world's good friend and teacher, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, must have noted the lack of childishness in latter-day children, else she couldn't have written so aptly as she did when she penned the following verses:

Where have they gone to—the little girls,
With natural manners and curls,
Who love their dollies and like their toys
And talk of something besides the boys?

Little old women in plenty I find,
Mothers in manners and old of mind;
Little old flirts who talk of their "beaux,"
And vie with each other in stylish clothes.

Little old belles who, at nine and ten,
Are sick of pleasure and tired of men;
Weary of travels, and balls, and fun,
And find no new thing under the sun.

Once, in the beautiful long ago,
Some dear little girls I used to know;
Girls who were merry as lambs at play,
And laughed and rollicked the livelong day.

They thought not at all of the "style" of their clothes,
They never imagined that boys were "beaux"—
"Other girls' brothers," and "mates" were they.
Splendid fellows to help them play.

Where have they gone to? If you see
One of them anywhere send her to me.
I would give a medal of purest gold
To one of those dear little girls of old,
With an innocent heart and an open smile,
Who knows not the meaning of "flirt" and "style."

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

(By Private Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, June 23.—Work has begun on preliminary operations for building the immense Pennsylvania railroad terminal in the heart of Manhattan. These preliminary operations mean devastation. Dozens and dozens of houses, old but still sturdy, have been purchased by the railroad between Ninth and Seventh avenues, and in the streets between them in the twenties and thirties. These houses form a large portion of that mysterious district dubbed the "Tenderloin," and if there had not been some such great enterprise as the Pennsylvania terminal to cause them to be swept away wholesale many of them might have lasted another decade at least. As it is they must all go. Wreckers have begun on the two houses numbered 256 and 258 Ninth avenue, and those buildings will have an historical interest in the memories of New Yorkers as marking the beginning of a great work. The railroad will keep on steadily at the work of demolishing houses on its newly acquired property, and in a few months there will be great ugly gaps in the architecture of the district, only to be filled in due time with the handsomest designs of modern art in steel and stone.

Weather Man in Despair.

It is becoming an old story to tell of miserable weather in New York. But today has been one of the worst that has been seen even in this year of dreary weeks and months. It rained steadily all night and kept up all day. The official forecaster hopes it will be fair on Wednesday, but does not seem cheerful over the prospect.

Tide Still Flowing This Way.

Immigration at this port continues to be enormous. Official records show that in the last 30 years nearly 9,000,000 immigrants have come to the United States. The largest number in any year was in 1882, when 788,000 aliens came into the country. This will be exceeded this year by the end of the present month. There will be 20 per cent more Irish landing in New York than a year ago in a corresponding period, but most of the newcomers are of the Slavonic races of eastern Europe and Italians. Italy is sending more of its people than any other nation.

Odd Way to Make a Living.

"Back-Number Budd" is one of the institutions of Manhattan. His name is Robert M. Budd, and he must be credited with as original and useful an idea as that of Romaine, the clipping bureau man, who died the other day. Budd advertised on his old weather-beaten sign outside his darksome, tunnel-like place of business in Thirty-second street, that he can supply back numbers of any paper or periodical from the year 1803 to date. He used to be in the newspaper business—selling papers—and he noticed that there was a continual demand for old papers which were not to be procured at the offices of the publication and often not at all. So he began to save papers every day and week, and as he fouped that he could sell back numbers at an advance of from one to 500 per cent on the original price he took to buying up old papers, magazines and other printed matter. These he had sorted and indexed, until he had an enormous stock. If you want anything in this line, the price depends upon the scarcity of the article. Just as does the value of a book to a bibliophile. It may cost you a dollar for a one cent newspaper, or it may cost $5. It all depends upon your eagerness for the paper, and the chance of your being able to procure it elsewhere. Budd does not get many customers, and those he does get must pay for his accommodation. From a merely curious point of view "Back-Number Budd's" place is worth a visit.

Another Day for Mudlarks.

It was a muddy day at Sheepshead Bay. There was a large attendance, however, for the real lover of the turf cannot be kept away by a steady downpour of rain, even with an accompaniment of chill winds such as have prevailed today. Of course, it has been hard for the tipster to pick winners because the "mudlarks" have had it all their own way, and no one knows what horse may develop the ability to move fast through the mire, unless he has shown his quality in that respect in some previous contest.

Mrs. Siegel Recovering.

Mrs. Henry Siegel is recovering from her injuries suffered in the runaway yesterday. She is easier in her mind, too, for a colored coachman found and restored to her the jewels she had lost. He got $500 for his trouble.

"Pretty Baby" Versus "Cry Baby."

Another of those delectable damage suits brought by a woman against a professional man is amusing New York tonight. Some of the letters have been read in court, showing that the man was usually addressed as "Cry Baby" and the lady as "Petty Baby." For ingenuity in inventing terms of endearment this couple seem to have been rather more far-reaching than most men and women who have reached years of discretion.

Capt. Diamond Must Pay.

Police Captain Diamond, who was found guilty of neglect of duty and fined $1,000, will have to suffer the penalty. The court of appeals at Albany today affirmed the judgment. Diamond fought hard against the charge in the first place and expressed his firm belief that the judgment would be reversed on appeal. As he is out of the department the appeal was more to clear his name than for the material benefit a decision in his favor would have been to him. He says he is a poor man, but a New York police captain who considers himself poor can generally pay $1,000 without being reduced to beggary.

Priest in Fireman's Clothes.

One of the picturesque firemen of New York who looks like a hero in his firemen's uniform is the Rev. William Steine Smith, a member of the Fathers of Mercy and one of the chaplains of the New York fire department. Were it not for his clerical white collar showing above his blue uniform coat, with the gilt buttons on the collar, it would be hard to imagine him a priest. His uniform cap, with a straight visor, sits jauntily on his head, and he looks as if he could spring up a ladder with a line of hose as well as any of his comrades in the department. And so he could and would. When he wears his priestly vestments in church on Sunday morning he looks more of a clergyman, but none the more a man. He sailed today for Italy on the Lombardia. He will be received by the pope and will make a short tour of Italy before he returns to America. A great many firemen, bartenders and brother clergymen wished him bon voyage at the steamship pier.

Saving Half a Million.

A Noiseless Fourth.

The movement for a more civilized observance of Independence day, which seems to have started this year in New England has spread westward all over the union, has developed an agitation that may accomplish more than the rare crusade against noise. This is the agitation in favor of confining the noise to one day.

It is very doubtful if the demand for noise which dwells in nearly all boys and men can be greatly curbed or restrained on the Fourth. It is thought proper in the name of patriotism to invest the day with as much danger and excitement as the law will permit, and how can we work up excitement without noise? And when we have the noise the excitement is still further enhanced by adding the element of danger. This is the idea that rails into action the pistol, the cannon and the dynamite bomb.

While it is too much to expect that the traditions of a hundred years can be entirely overcome by appeals for a civilized observance of the Fourth, there is no reason why public sentiment should not confine the hideous noises and horrors to one day. In Chicago the proclamation of the mayor, already issued, will divest the day of many of its dangers if it is rigidly enforced. But it is the custom in this city and surrounding towns for the small boy to begin the celebration several days before the Fourth and to prolong the noisy explosions for several days after.

This should be stopped. The carnival of barbarous and nerve-racking noise should be confined to one day. Street hoodlums and others who insist upon exploding firecrackers and firing cannons several days in advance of the Fourth should be arrested and their noise-making machines confiscated.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Certainly there is a measure of truth in what the reformers have to say as to the day's misuse. Too much carelessness frequently prevails in the public regulation of the display of fireworks and the discharge of firecrackers. As a general thing patriotism gives place to hoodlumism in certain quarters on the nation's natal day, to the distress, the annoyance, the physical pain and the sorrow of many good citizens. But to abolish noise entirely on the Fourth of July is not to be countenanced. By tradition the American youth is entitled to have a good time on the Fourth of July, and a good time without firecrackers is an absurdity.

To prohibit entirely the explosion of the red-paper bunch of noise would be to take from Young America one of his most cherished possessions. To assert that he may not yell and howl and contribute to the general clamor would be revolutionary and calculated to make him feel that the cherished things of youth had turned to ashes. But it is well enough to regulate the use of firecrackers, fireworks and the roaring bomb. The liberty to blow off youthful patriotism should not be permitted to degenerate into license, neither should it be entirely abridged. Fourth of July is not Fourth of July without a certain amount of noise, but do not take from the boys and girls of the land their traditional enjoyment. Do not let the nervous reformers change our American habits and customs.—Butte Inter-Mountain.

Every sane man is convinced of the horrors and dangers of our prevailing Fourth of July customs. The toy pistol and the cannon cracker are as bad as a pestilence. A display of beautiful fireworks has its redeeming features. The small boy with his firecrackers must be indulged to a certain extent. But just why it should be thought proper in the name of patriotism to set off noise-making machines like cannon crackers, of such power that they frequently do serious damage to life and property is not always a matter entirely clear. It would be as safe to have Park avenue explosions now and then for fun. Such accidents cause excitement, and in spite of their fatalities probably amuse a certain number of people.

It is, of course, too much to hope that the traditions of many years will be overcome by reason with any great speed, particularly when the traditional observance gives an outlet for the demon of noise dwelling in all boys and in many men. We shall doubtless have the usual day of noise. But it is not too much to ask that the disorder be strictly confined to that day.—New York Tribune.

For many years the people of the country celebrated the "Fourth" mainly by wearing their Sunday clothes, drinking red lemonade, listening to the reading of the Proclamation of Independence and hearing speeches recite the past history and present glories of the country. The lemonade often was too red, the eloquence faulty, and the speeches more vociferous and high-flown than instructive or inspiring, but the general effect of the celebrations was for one day, to raise the people's minds from their ordinary pursuits to thoughts of a better character, to increase their national pride and to stimulate their patriotism.

So different have modern celebrations become that there are not many places where they produce the same good effects. Their chief ingredient now is noise, and their main result maimed limbs, broken heads, burned property and funerals. Comparatively little damage is done by explosives in rural communities, where celebrations are usually held in groves and other places distant from buildings, but the danger from their use in cities where people and buildings are necessarily packed close together is so great that unless it can be confined to the smallest firecrackers and other little gimcracks, it ought to be prohibited altogether.—Kansas City Journal.

The epidemic of deaths, wounds and fires that attend our national powder day has long been a source of dread. The police of several large cities have already taken the matter in hand and other reformatory agencies have been set in operation. Powder, and lots of it, will continue to be burned on the Fourth. There is no escaping that conclusion and no one desires to put a damper on youthful patriotic ardor, but there is a fast spreading belief that the thing has been overdone and there has been much racking of brains to find an acceptable substitute.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

ON TELLING THE TRUTH.

Archie's Little Poker Game and the Result Upon a Pious Wife.

Like many other men Archie plays poker once in a while, but his wife's disapproval of it is generally well voiced and insistent. He had an engagement for a little party one Saturday night a while ago. He lost $40, and as he had $100 with him when he started out he had just $60 left when he got home. It was a o'clock and rather than be suspected of more serious offenses he confessed that he'd been playing poker. Taking a tip from a friend who once that means successfully he put the $60 down on the chiffonier and said:

"My dear, I'm going to give you this $20 that I won tonight. I had a pleasant evening and a profitable one. You can buy yourself something nice with this."

But madame declared that she would never touch such ill-gotten money, and so he agreed to buy her a $25 jardiniere that she had been wanting and a piece of dressmade. The next morning Mrs. Archie called him to find out if he was going to church with her. He begged off. When she came home he was dressing.

"Did you take the money off the dresser?" he asked.

"Yes," she said; "I wasn't going to have any gambling money around here, so I gave it to the aid society at church this morning."

The poker game's total cost to Archie

YEARLY RENTAL TO BE DEMANDED

Citizens Reformers Favor This Form of Compensation for Duquesne Way Franchise.

RADICAL AMENDMENTS READY

Councilman Stevenson Wants Pennsylvania to Allow Other Companies to Use Line—Smoke Question Appears. Other Things Proposed.

The Citizens party reformers, responsible for the defeat of the Pennsylvania's Duquesne Way elevated railroad ordinance, in common council Monday night, have practically agreed that the compensation they will demand in lieu of the franchise shall be $50,000 a year rental, and they will make an effort to have a clause to this effect inserted in the measure in the corporations committee before the ordinance is reported back to common council next Monday night.

The ordinance will be taken up tonight, at a meeting of the joint corporations committee, but at least two sessions of the committee will be required to hear all parties in interest and to discuss the proposed amendments which will be galore.

Councilman W. H. Stevenson is the author of a number of amendments which he wants inserted in the ordinance, one of which is of a most remarkable character. It provides that any other transportation company shall have the right of use the Pennsylvania company's line along Duquesne Way or to cross over or under its tracks, and that if the Pennsylvania and the other company or companies can not agree, that meayor and the company seeking the privilege shall fix the terms and conditions. The penalty of a violation of this provision is the forfeiture and removal of the Duquesne Way line by the Pennsylvania.

Track Removal in Two Years.

Councilman Stevenson proposes also that a definite time shall be prescribed for the removal of the tracks in Liberty avenue. He will offer an amendment providing that the tracks between Water and Twelfth streets, in Liberty avenue, shall be removed within two years after the passage of the ordinance.

The smoke nuisance is another new feature which Councilman Stevenson proposes to inject in the ordinance. He said yesterday that he had been called upon by the real estate agent of Henry Phipps, who is erecting an office building at Duquesne Way and Sixth street, and that Mr. Phipps' agent had told him that the Duquesne Way line would be opposed because of the smoke that would issue from the engines. Mr. Stevenson suggested an amendment requiring the company to use electric engines on the elevated or else that hard coal be used in the engines. This suggestion, he said, met with the approval of Mr. Phipps' agent.

Protection From All Damages.

Mr. Stevenson has prepared another amendment providing that "the said railroad company shall indemnify and save harmless the said city from any and all cost, loss or damage howgoever, arising by reason of any improvement, action or anything hereunder."

This amendment makes the company liable for any consequential damages from the construction of the line, either in Duquesne way or in other streets, and enables property owners to recover from the railroad company.

The Allegheny river boomers who are agitating the raising of the bridges constitute another factor. M. A. Woodward, attorney for the river people, called upon Mayor Hays yesterday afternoon to discuss the matter. The rivermen hope to force the elevation of the bridges and claim that the proposed elevated railroad line along Duquesne way would make the raising of the bridges a physical impossibility and practically monopolize the Allegheny river wharf.

The patriotic societies, composed principally of women, which are protecting the historic block house at the Point, have been assured that the others which provides for the regrading of Penn avenue, between Fourth and Water streets, in front of the block house, will be stricken out and should have been eliminated before the ordinance was sent to councils Monday night.

The property owners and others protesting against the Duquesne way line will appear at the meeting of the corporations committee tonight to state their objections, and considerable time will probably be spent in hearing them.

Favors Yearly Rental.

Little credence is given the story that Mayor Hays and Murry A. Verner have disagreed with the Bigelows over the railroad ordinance. The story that the leaders were seriously divided on the matter was strongly denied yesterday by Director E. M. Bigelow and also by several councilmen who took an active part in the defeat of the ordinance Monday night.

"It is absolutely untrue," said Director E. M. Bigelow yesterday. "I saw the mayor this morning and he said nothing that indicated he was displeased."

Mayor Hays said yesterday that he did not favor the passage of the ordinance unless it contained a clause protecting the city from all liability for consequential damages. He said he was willing to leave the question of compensation to councils.

Councilman W. C. Reitz, one of the leaders of the opposition, said last night that the Citizens councilmen who voted against the ordinance did not do so at the request of Mayor Hays or Mr. Verner. "I do not believe any of our number was asked by Mayor Hays or any person else to vote against the ordinance," he said.

Mr. Reitz said he thought the $50,000 yearly rental was the most favored method of obtaining compensation for the franchise. "Valuing the franchise at $1,000,000, the yearly rental at 5 per cent would be $50,000, and I think that a fair sum," he said.

Leaders Are Not Divided.

"An annual rental," said he, "would be better for both the city and the railroad company than a lump sum, for the city would have something that it could depend upon every year, for perpetuity, and $50,000 would not draw so hard upon the railroad company as would $1,000,000 in one sum."

Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to the president of the Pennsylvania railroad, expressed astonishment over the action of common council Monday night. He intimated that the company would not offer any further concessions and that he expected the corporations committee to approve the ordinance again without making any material changes.

STEVENSON ENDORSED.

Citizens Party Organization of Fourteenth Ward Upholds Their Representative.

The chairmen of 13 of the 16 districts of the Fourteenth ward, were present last night at a meeting of the W. J. Stevenson in the fight over the Pennsylvania's Duquesne way railroad ordinance.

M. J. Ebrenfeld, who is vice chairman of both factions in the ward, was present. The following was adopted:

Resolved, That we, the ward officers and district chairmen of the Citizens party of the Fourteenth ward of the city of Pittsburgh, do heartily indorse the action of W. H. Stevenson, common councilman of this ward, in his stand in relation to the Pennsylvania railroad ordinance, and in living up to the principles of the platform upon which he was elected.

CUSTER DISCHARGED FROM THE PANHANDLE

Superintendent of Department Opposed to His Style of Romance.

Edward L. Custer, who took Cora L. Kinsey, a former school teacher, from her home in Sheraden on Sunday, has been discharged by the Panhandle Railroad Company. The whereabouts of the couple is still unknown to the girl's father, F. D. Kinsey. Custer is reported to have said that she is working as cashier in a Pittsburgh department store at $15 a week, but he expected she would be discharged as soon as her employers were apprised of her elopement.

Custer was dismissed from his employment in the Panhandle yard office in Sheraden on Monday, although Mr. Kinsey did not hear of it until yesterday morning. The superintendent of the department in which Custer was employed lost no time in notifying the young man that his services were not wanted. The young man was told on Monday afternoon, so Mr. Kinsey said last night, that he was dismissed and to collect his wages the next day.

"Custer went down to the pay office today with a clerk to identify him," said Mr. Kinsey. "On the way he asked his companion if he had read in The Gazette of the man who had run away with a Sheraden girl, and when the man said he had, Custer laughed and said: 'I'm the fellow.' He said he thought he would go to Kansas City, where he has an uncle. I have not learned where either of them is in Pittsburgh.

"A member of my family telephoned to the Rev. Mr. Custer of Martin's Ferry, Custer's father, what his son had done. Mr. Custer was horrified and said he and his wife had had trouble with their son for years, and that his latest escapade might kill Mrs. Custer."

NEARLY 1200 FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL

Result of the Yearly Admission Examinations Is Very Gratifying.

ONLY 59 FAILED TO PASS

Results Proved That the Principals Had the Wrong Idea in Making Protests—Re-Examinations for Sixty-Five Pupils.

The results of the examination for admission to the High schools were announced last night. The report of the board of examiners will be satisfactory in almost every school. There were 1,268 pupils examined. Of this number 1,144 passed, 64 are entitled to a re-examination, having made a high enough average, but being deficient in one study; one was incomplete and will be re-examined; and 59 failed. The successful candidates are given below by sub-districts.

Those who are entitled to a reexamination are as follows:

Orthography—Nos. 287, 435, 699, 701, 1302.
Composition—Nos. 55, 87, 178, 208, 248, 302, 501, 602, 1275, 1285, 1307, 1356.
Algebra—Nos. 9, 41, 192, 254, 427, 655, 657, 665, 693, 699, 720, 947, 1041, 1108, 1128, 1250, 1256, 1258, 1262, 1599.
Incomplete—No. 287.

When the examinations started there was a very vigorous protest against the papers on orthography and grammar. Some of the principals declared they were too difficult and were unfair. The arithmetic and algebra papers, on the other hand, met with great approval. The results indicate that the principals had a wrong idea of the knowledge of their pupils. Very few went down in either orthography or grammar, while algebra and arithmetic proved a stumbling block to many.

A practice prevailing in some of the schools of sending up the seventh grade pupils for this examination which is intended for eighth grade pupils, leads to many of the failures, and not only leads to this in the examination for admission, but accounts as well for many of those entering the High schools failing to keep up with their classes in the first year there.

The schools that passed all the pupils entered are the Bedford, Brushton, Forbes, Franklin, Grant, Hancock, Homewood, Howard, Knox, Lawrence, Liberty, Mt. Albion, North, Ralston, South and Springfield. The schools, in addition to these, which had no failures, were the Birmingham, Duquesne, Humboldt, Oakland, Riversíde, St. Clair, Sterrett and Thad. Stevens. In all these there are some re-examinations, but no failures.

GENERAL RESUMPTION TAKES PLACE TODAY

All Bricklayers and Stone Masons Will Report for Work This Morning.

All the bricklayers and stone masons in this district will be at work today. Some started yesterday, but it was impossible to get the news of the settlement to all the men in time. A few men were at work on the Bessemer building, preparing mortar and other work for a general resumption. It was on the Bessemer building where the trouble first started.

Neither faction has yet named arbitrators. This will be done as soon as all the men are at work. Pending the decision of the arbitrators, one feature will exist that did not before the commencement of the fight—that is, stone masons of both organizations will be permitted to work on the same building. It was this feature that led to the fight.

The stone masons' local of the B. M. I. U. held a meeting last night in the bricklayers' headquarters, No. 310 Wylie avenue. Seventeen candidates were admitted into membership. These were given working permits before the matter was placed in the hands of arbitrators. No more stone masons will be admitted into the B. M. I. U. until after the arbitrators give their decision.

The contractors had closed the stone quarries and brick kilns. The owners were asked to stop supplying material until after the fight was settled. The action of yesterday resulted in orders being sent out to open the quarries and yards and furnish material where needed.

President Shaffer In McKeesport.

Theodore J. Shaffer, president of the Amalgamate dassociation, was in McKeesport yesterday. He refused to disclose the nature of his business, other than to say that it was connected with the work of the organization. He held conferences with a number of mill workers.

Delegates to Syracuse.

The Letter Carriers' association of Pittsburgh yesterday elected as delegates to the annual national convention, in Syracuse, N. Y., on August 31, F. J. Creighton, J. W. Anderson, James Duffy, Joseph Tittle, James Kerns, Charles Ulrick and D. C. Mayunberger.

News of the Labor World.

A mass meeting of car builders will be held tomorrow evening at No. 902 Penn avenue. It was called by Organizer Joseph Rouser of the International Association of Car Workers. It is the intention to form another local.

The Amalgamated association and the Workers from Steel and Tube Company have failed to agree upon a scale. A conference commenced last Thursday. The manufacturers want to reduce heaters' wages.

The American Flint Glass Workers' union will not resume the factory burned down at Summitville, Ind., Monday. The officials say the gas is giving out in that section. They contemplate building a 4-inch bottle house in Washington, Pa., and another in Ohio.

The Manufacturers' association has notified the machinists that it will not be able to present its ultimatum before Saturday. It formerly agreed to give the machinists a final decision Monday. It will be acted upon at a mass meeting in Old City hall Sunday afternoon.

Dr. Kountz to Be Tried.

The trial of Dr. Walter F. Kountz for the murder of Contractor John E. Walsh will commence this morning in criminal court. Kountz is charged with shooting Walsh while the latter was out walking with the defendant's wife. The trial is expected to consume the rest of the week. Deputies Attorney John C. Haymaker will look after the commonwealth's side of the case, while Jackson and Lang and Clarence Burleigh will defend Kountz.

Life Workers Order a Strike.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The board of Mosaic and Encaustic Tile Layers' union called a sympathy strike today against all employers in the Building Trades Employers' association who had shut out any of the other unions affiliated with the Board of Building Mechanics.

To Colorado —Inexpensively
Don't make the mistake of assuming that it costs a "mint of money" to spend your vacation in Colorado. It doesn't. In no other part of the United States—that is, in no other part where summer visitors go—will your money go so far or buy so much.
For $8, $9 or $10 a week you can get good board and lodging at Colorado Springs, Manitou or Denver. Pay more, and, of course, you get more. After all, the number of persons who stay at Colorado's high-priced hotels is small. The vast percentage of the people who go there spend not to exceed $12 a week. That includes everything—living, amusements and side-trips. Instead of putting up at expensive hotels, they stay at comfortable boarding houses, at "lodges" or in camps.
July 1 to 10, the cost of reaching Colorado will be materially reduced. Round trip tickets will be on sale for $25 from Chicago; $21 from St. Louis; $15 from Omaha, St. Joseph and Kansas City. Tourist sleeping cars will be attached to Rock Island trains for Colorado on dates when low rates apply. The rate from Chicago is only $2.50—$3.50 less than in a standard sleeper. But tickets are good in standard sleepers on limited trains, if you prefer to travel that way.
Thousands of people are already in Colorado. Hundreds are on the way. Thousands more are going in the next two or three weeks.
If your ticket reads via the Rock Island System, you can depend upon having a quick and comfortable journey in both directions.
Any or all of the following publications will be sent free on request:
Under the Turquoise Sky—Colorado is interestingly described in this beautiful booklet of sixty pages. It is filled with useful information for the tourist, and is well illustrated.
Out-Door Social Life in Colorado—Golf, cricket, polo and other out-door sports are enjoyed in Colorado all through the year. This little book of forty-eight pages, illustrated, tells all about it. Sent on request.
Cut out this ad., indicate by check mark which book you want, and send with name and address.

ONE MORE RALLY AT ALMA MATER

Alumni of Washington and Jefferson Held Many Reunions Yesterday.

PUPILS GAVE A PERFORMANCE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 23.—The third day of the one hundred and second commencement of Washington and Jefferson college proved to be very quiet. It was alumni day and many reunions were held. Many more friends of the graduates have arrived for the exercises tomorrow, which will close the events of commencement week. Many college classes held reunions today and some of the classes held banquets at the local hotels.

This evening in the Lyric theater the college glee club gave its annual commencement concert in connection with the presentation of "Christopher, Jr.," by the Washington and Jefferson College Dramatic association.

This morning an informal dance was tendered the members of the class of 1903 by the society girls of town. About 200 were in attendance. This afternoon a meeting of the board of trustees of the college was held, when the president's report was submitted and financial reports were received. The college was found to be on a firm financial basis and the last year was the banner year in nearly every respect. It was decided to make several additions to the college curriculum next year, the most important of which is the establishing of a permanent chair of oratory.

It was also decided by the trustees to raise the standard of the institution in nearly every department. The engineering department, which is new, will be greatly improved, and next year an engineer's degree will be given each graduate of the department.

The program for tomorrow is an extensive one. The commencement exercises proper will be held in the college gymnasium at 9 o'clock. President Moffat will preside and will make the address and present the diplomas to the graduates. Prizes and honors will be announced tomorrow at these exercises. Fifty-five men will graduate and several will deliver orations. Immediately following commencement will be held the alumni dinner and reunion in the main college building.

It is expected that ex-Gov. James A. Beaver, president of the General Alumni association, will preside, and a large number of toasts will be responded to. The events of commencement week will be brought to a close tomorrow night, when the annual senior promenade will be held in the college gymnasium. It will be attended by large numbers from Pittsburgh and other points.

Good Program at Waynesburg.

WAYNESBURG, PA., June 23.—(Special.)—The annual commencement exercises at Waynesburg college, now being held are having a larger attendance than in any previous year. An address was delivered before the Christian association by Dr. Sanford Bell of Boston, and the baccalaureate sermon by the Rev. Dr. John R. Harris of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh. Today the final chapel exercises were held in the morning. The tennis tournament came this afternoon.

Tonight, the annual concert by the conservatory of music under the direction of Prof. C. W. Best. "Joan of Arc" was rendered by a chorus of 80 trained voices. The soloists included several Pittsburgh singers, Miss Hendricks Kiel taking the part of Joan; Dan Beddoe Phillip, and John Roberts Jean. Tomorrow the society reunions take place and in the evening the annual alumni banquet, at which Gov. A. E. Cummins of Iowa will be a guest. On Thursday Gov. Cummins, who is an alumnus of the college, will deliver the oration to the graduating class. The class numbers ten, as follows: Lulu M. Pantall of Punxsutawney, Grace F. Sayers, Eva Luse, Irene Ray of Waynesburg; George W. Teggarden of Washington, Pa.; J. Frank Baily of Carmichaels; W. C. Montgomery and Frank Martin of Waynesburg. HER HEROISM REWARDED BY GREATFUL TEACHERS

New Castle Girl Given Chest of Silver for Saving Lives at a Wellsley Fire.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 23.—Miss Elizabeth Hutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Hutton of Neshannock avenue, has received a magnificent chest of silver from the Dana Hall school of Wellesley, Mass., in recognition of prompt service rendered by her when the entire college dormitory was threatened with destruction by fire and hundreds of lives were imperilled.

During the term just closed Miss Hutton, Miss Helen Rhodes and Miss Susannah Young of this city attended the Dana Hall school. On the night of December 6, 1902, Miss Hutton was awakened by the smell of smoke. She awakened her room mate, Miss Rhodes, and then ran hurrying through the corridors and aroused the authorities. It was found that crossed electric wires had set fire to the woodwork, and the flames were extinguished before great damage was done.

However, all conceded that thanks for saving the dormitory and the lives of the girls were due to Miss Hutton. The chest of silver holds 60 pieces, each engraved with the owner's monogram. On a golden plate attached to the lid of the chest are engraved these words: "Presented to Elizabeth McGuffin Hutton by the Dana Hall school of Wellesley, Mass., in grateful memory of her inestimable service in giving the alarm of fire on the night of December 6, 1902."

A Trained Nurse Speaks Out.

Trained nurses as a rule are a fine lot of women, and if they were men would make magnificent soldiers. They are trained to obey to the minutest detail, and it is seldom one can be got to express an opinion on any remedy, being content to carry out the physician's orders. Speaking on the subject one of the best known nurses of Pittsburgh, Pa., said: "I only recall one case where I felt called upon to speak right out and tell the doctors what I thought. I had been called in to attend an old lady suffering with chronic constipation and whose enfeebled condition precluded the use of cascara, rhubarb, licorice or other powerful purgatives. The doctors were giving the patient large doses of olive oil without any appreciable result. I insisted upon Red Raven Splits, knowing that as a laxative, though mild, it was exceedingly sure. To my delight, the doctors, after consultation, prescribed a bottle every morning for three mornings. A prompt change came over the patient and in a few days she was relieved. This is the only experience I ever had with Red Raven Splits in a critical illness, but in a number of mild attacks of constipation, torpid liver, headache and biliousness, I have known them to bring quick relief."

All drug stores and bars keep Red Raven Splits—a sparkling mineral water in half-pint bottles. Price 15c.

WATER! WATER!

WATER-SOAKED LOTS AT BARGAIN PRICES!

Don't you know that it has rained for so many Saturdays that the man who made the almanac has forgotten when it didn't rain on that day?

We have more than five hundred and fifty lots in our plan that were all out in the rain and consequently they all got more or less water soaked, and will have to be placed on the bargain counter for sale.

Some fellows' lots are smaller than the prices and this being the case it was easier for them to take the lots in out of the rain than the prices.

We are not built that way, and our prices are smaller than the lots so that we had no alternative but to take the price in and leave the lots out in the wet, and cut the price to suit the wetness.

There is no record of but one excursion boat advertised that would come anywhere near our plan of lots, and that was promoted by Mr. Noah some years ago.

We do better than that now. We reach our plan by the Pittsburgh & Charleroi Electric line. When this line was first proposed we heard talk of dining cars being run over the line, but under the present management you leave Pittsburgh and arrive at Charleroi before you would have time to cream your coffee and our plan of lots before you could pick up the bill of fare.

When the tunnel through Mt. Washington is completed our lots will be twenty minutes' ride from the Pittsburgh postoffice.

No special day of sale; come any day. Heat expands, and as the weather grows warmer our prices are liable to increase, but the size of our lots will remain the same.

LOTS 50X135 FEET--$250 TO $500

5% DOWN AND 2½% PER MONTH.

Call at our office, 1105 Arrott Building, Cor. Wood Street and Fourth Avenue, and examine plans and we will show the goods.

REFORMATION IN BRADDOCK

Indifference of Traction Company Leads Citizens to Demand Better Service.

STRAP-HANGERS ORGAINZE

Suburban Newspaper Points Out Some Evils Which Result from Over-Crodwing of Cars on the Second Avenue Line.

A reformation in traction service is coming in Braddock and the adjacent towns in the Monongahela valley. So many accidents resulting from the overcrowding of cars, and robberries, which occur almost daily, has placed the Pittsburgh Railways Company over a volcano of public wrath which is on the point of bursting forth with even greater fury than that which characterized the onslaught from Pittsburghers last spring.

The newspapers of Braddock, Homestead, Duquesne and McKeesport, heartily indorsed the crusade undertaken by The Gazette several months ago, and now are leading the campaign of the Strap-Hangers' league. While the traction company has made some effort to improve the conditions of the downtown patrons as a result of recent agitation, affairs in Braddock are at a standstill so far as the traction facilities are concerned. In the Braddock Daily News yesterday afternoon the following editorial appeared:

"The crowded condition of all the street cars running through Braddock, especially those used on Saturday by the employes of the great Westinghouse works, returning to their homes from the shops, has afforded a rich field for pickpockets. Every pay day a number of the employes and other patrons of the road have been relieved of their money by pickpockets who take advantage of the crowds to work their game. Nor is their work confined to Westinghouse pay days, as is shown by losses reported almost daily to the police. The street car companies have been importuned time after time to furnish more cars, thereby giving fair patrons not only better service but protection from thieves as well. Nor is the danger confined alone to losses caused by the light-fingered gentry. The crowded cars are a menace to life and limb; this will be seen by recent accidents in which passengers on crowded cars suffered broken bones and in one case, death. So great has become the inconvenience that the patrons of the road are contemplating organizing a 'Strap Hangers' League,' after the style of their suffering brethren in Pittsburgh, and will make a systematic effort to remedy the evil. There are few points along the lines of the street railways in this county where the company reap a richer return than in Braddock and immediate vicinity, and it is but reasonable to expect the railway companies to give us service both adequate and safe. The gentlemen who are at the head of the proposed 'Strap Hanger's League' are ones who will insist on the public being given such treatment as will insure not only safety but comfort, as well during the long rides many of them are forced to make on the street cars. Hundreds of men working at the Westinghouse are obliged to live in Pittsburgh and come points distant from Braddock, on account of the scarcity of homes here and are tired and disgusted over the fact that many of them are forced to stand in the cars or on the bumpers and running board from the time they leave their work until they reach Pittsburgh, a little over an hour. They want better accommodations and will work to get it."

by using coal and having to let the fire die out after the meal is cooked. Besides, it's dirty and heats the whole house up from the kitchen fire. Not so with natural gas. Turn off the gas after the meal's cooked, that's the end of it. VETO ONLY HOPE DAVIDSON HAS NOW

Delinquent Tax Collector Says Wyman Won't Approve Ordinance Abolishing His Office.

COUNCILS FAVOR THE BILL

Chairman Kirschler, of Finance Committee, Predicts Favorable Report to Select Branch and Thinks the Mayor Will Not Consider Veto.

Mayor Wyman of Allegheny will veto the ordinance abolishing the delinquent tax office, according to Delinquent Tax Collector Davidson. Davidson has had a number of conferences with the mayor relative to the ordinance. He refuses to tell what assurances Wyman has given him, but declares the ordinance will be vetoed if it passes councils.

There seems to be little doubt in Allegheny now that the measure will not pass in either select or common councils. Most of the members of the common branch elected last February with Wyman are disappointing to both Wyman and Davidson. Although the mayor will not say what he thinks of the ordinance it is generally understood that he is opposed to doing away with the delinquent tax office, and is vexed with Councilman Beatty for introducing it. The fact that a Citizens member of select put the measure in is something that Wyman does not like, as this is likely to get votes that might have gone the other way had a Republican member been responsible for it.

Every member of the finance committee, to which the ordinance was referred has been sounded by Davidson and his friends, and the result has been most disappointing. The confidence first expressed that the Wyman majority in the committee would kill the ordinance has changed to denunciation of those whom the Davidson people say are "lying down on their friends." There is no doubt of a favorable report on the ordinance by the committee, and at least nine of the 15 members of the select branch are openly in favor of it.

Charles F. Kirschler, chairman of the finance committee, was asked yesterday if it were true that he had promised Davidson his support.

"I never promised Davidson anything," said Kirschler. "I understand Davidson is letting his friends believe that I am going to oppose the ordinance, but he never got any such word from me. From what I hear from the members of the finance committee, the measure will have easy sailing and will go into the next meeting of select council with a favorable report. I am not saying how I stand in the matter, but I will say that I think the ordinance will go up to the mayor within the next month for his approval or veto. Considering the nature of the ordinance and the interest the public is taking in its passage, I don't think the mayor will veto it."

City Solicitor Porter who, with Davidson, managed Wyman's campaign last winter, will not say what he thinks of the ordinance and its possible fate. The finance committee does not meet until Monday, July 22, and the Wyman people are preparing to do a lot of missionary work in the meantime in an effort to defeat Beatty's ordinance.

MILITIA CALLED OUT TO QUELL THE STRIKE RIOT

RICHMOND, VA., June 23.—Gov. Montague this afternoon ordered the Seventh regiment, the Richmond Blues battalion and the Richmond Howitzers, an artillery company, to aid in sustaining order against the street car strikers and their sympathizers. There has been much rioting during the day as a result of the strike, and the situation is ugly. Nobody has been seriously hurt as yet.

TYPICAL HOME IN A BEAUTIFUL SUBURB

RESIDENCE OF CHARLES HEINZ AT ASPINWALL

It is doubtful if any suburb of Pittsburgh is more justly proud of its environments than the pretty town of Aspinwall up the Allegheny river. Wide, level streets, bordered by a well-kept strip of greensward and shaded by handsome trees, give the town an air of contentment seldom found around the busy, noisy city. Back of the village the wooded slopes rise to afford a denser shade. Pure air, clear water, cleanly surroundings and restful quiet are among the advantages that have drawn many business men to this somewhat out-of-the-way nook. The houses they have built within the past two years are proof that they are abundantly satisfied with their choice of a home center, for no more tasty dwellings can be found around the city. The last, and in many respects the finest, of these residences is that of Charles Heinz of the H. J. Heinz company, a cut of which is shown herewith. It stands on a large lot at the northwest corner of Eastern avenue and Second street and will cost exclusive of the furnishing, $20,000. Like the typical colonial house it is roomy and convenient and is a notable addition to Aspinwall's beautiful homes.

BUCKTAILS CAPTURE THE KEYSTONE CAPITAL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, June 23.—The famous Bucktails were the first of the Pennsylvania reserves to reach Harrisburg today to attend the final muster of the gallant volunteers of the Keystone State who, 17,000 strong, marched to the defense of Washington in 1861.

They strung a conspicuous banner across the street from their headquarters at the Bolton house and all day were besieged with visitors. Tomorrow it is expected there will be 2,000 of the reserves here to participate in the reunion.

There will be a lot of heroes among them. Conspicuous in the gathering will be Gen. John P. Taylor of Mifflintown, whose dash as a cavalry officer won him the ecomiums of his superiors; Col. Bruce Ricketts of Wilkesbarre, who wiped out the Louisiana Tigers at Cemetery Ridge, Gettysburg, and Matthew Hooten of West Chester, who left home in 1861 as a second lieutenant and is now a retired brigadier general of the regular army.

A reception will be held tomorrow afternoon at the court house. Gov. Pennypacker will make the address of welcome. Mayor McCormick will welcome the veterans on the part of the city.

Cowboys Claim Self-Defense.

TOPEKA, KAN., June 23. The line of defense that will be made in behalf of Dewey and his cowboy associates will be self-defense. It is not admitted that either Dewey or Wilson or McBride, the three who are under arrest, fired the fatal shots, and it is claimed all the evidence produced fails to show that the defendants committed murder.

ALLEGHENY KEEPS RIVERVIEW PARK

Danger of Losing Property Removed by President Callery's Letter.

MARSHALL AVENUE SAVED

Director McIlvain Plans Fine Driveway from Heart of Allegheny to Riverview Park—Will Ask for Bond Issue to Meet Expense.

President J. D. Callery of the Pittsburgh Railways Company yesterday notified City Solicitor Porter of Allegheny that the company had abandoned the new line being laid in Marshall avenue, Tenth ward, and authorized Director E. J. McIlvain of the public works to pull up the portions of the track already finished as soon as is desirable. Director McIlvain said last night that the tracks would be off the street within a week and that the paving of Marshall avenue would commence at once.

This communication from President Callery sets at rest all fear of the city losing Riverview park as a result of giving the Pittsburgh Railways Company a franchise in Marshall avenue.

Notice Already Served By Mr. Park.

David E. Park, trustee of the property given the city by the late Samuel Watson, declared that, should a street car track be laid in Marshall avenue, the city would forfeit its ownership in the Riverview park property, as it is stated in the ordinance accepting the property that at least one thoroughfare entering the park shall be free from street car tracks. Mr. Park notified councils several weeks ago that the park property reverted to him as trustee by reason of the tracks laid in Marshall avenue.

Director McIlvain said last night that the Sicilian Asphalt Paving Company, which has a contract with the city for the paving of Marshall avenue, would be instructed to commence work in the street at once. The release of the Marshall avenue franchise by the Pittsburgh Railways Company means more to the city than the saving of the Riverview park property. Since it has been decided that there are to be no tracks in that thoroughfare Director McIlvain means to carry out the project he proposed some time ago to councils, that of building a driveway from the center of the business district of the city to the park. Director McIlvain said last night:

Fine Speedway Proposed.

"Now that this question has been settled, it is my purpose to have a fine driveway from city hall out to Riverview park. I shall have an ordinance put into councils asking that an 80-foot bridge be built over the Ft. Wayne tracks at Ohio street, and that Western avenue, from the bridge, be widened by taking 25 feet from the west park. This will give us a good outlet from the heart of the city to Irwin avenue. From there one can get out Ridge avenue and Chartiers street to the lower end of Marshall avenue without driving in streets where there are car tracks.

"I mean to ask for a bond issue, so that Marshall avenue may be improved from California avenue to the Brighton road. If this improvement is completed Allegheny will have one of the finest driveways in this part of the country. I am preparing plans for a driveway down Kilbuck hollow, in Riverview park, that will run from the entrance of the park to Woods Run avenue. There are no tracks in the latter thoroughfare, and from the point where the new road will connect with it there is a mile of good roadway to the Woods Run avenue entrance to the park."

PURSUED PIRATES ON THE YOUGH

After a long, years chase on the Youghiogheny river, Constables O. P. Dougherty of McKeesport overhauled a pirated craft and captured Steve Blosey, whom he charges with stealing metal from his brickyard. Dougherty saw three men in his yard yesterday morning and gave chase. They jumped into a skiff and rowed desperately across the Youghiogheny river with the constables in pursuit in another skiff. Blosey was captured as they were making a landing, but the other two escaped.

GOVERNOR SELECTS ROAD COMMISSIONER

Appointment to Be Announced Today Made After Consultation With Leaders.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, June 23.—Gov. Pennypacker has selected a state highway commissioner to enforce the provisions of the Sproul road bill. He will announce the appointment tomorrow.

The government conferred today with Senators Sproul of Delaware, Roberts of Montgomery and Representative Creasy of Columbia to canvass the qualifications of the various applicants for commissioner.

At the governor's request, President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad recommended three expert engineers and road builders for the position, and it is expected one of these is the lucky man. The salary is $3,500. He will appoint an assistant, a chief clerk, a stenographer and a corps of road-builders, who will be paid out of the $6,000,000 appropriated for the improvement of the highways.

The governor today appointed Ethan Allen Weaver, Maj. David S. F. Chew, Arthur H. Brockie and Charles F. Jenkins of Philadelphia and Gen. John F. Brooke of Rosemont commissioners for the erection of a monument to mark the battle of Germantown, for which an appropriation of $10,000 was made.

Sent for the Minister.

The Rev. W. Guay Rosselle, formerly pastor of the Homestead Baptist church but now a pastor in Williamsport, has come on to officiate at the wedding of Miss Nora Summersgill and Frederick High, tomorrow. The Rev. Mr. Rosselle and Mr. High were classmates at Waynesburg college and the home of the bride is in Waynesburg, Pa.

St. Louis at Boston.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 23.—(Special.)—Rain again interfered with the Pittsburgh team's triumphant march. At no time today was there a chance for play, as the rain poured and thoroughly soaked the Phillies' ball field. The team is quartered at the Aldine hotel. From the present playing of the Phillies, Pittsburgh should have no difficulty winning the present series. Thus far they have six victories and one defeat over the local men.

All the Pittsburgh players are in excellent shape and are ready to continue their winning way tomorrow, should weather conditions permit.

Tenney's Poor Play Helped His Club to Defeat.

THE COLLEGE CREWS READY FOR RACES

Hard Work Being Kept Up Both at Gales Ferry and Poughkeepsie.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GALES FERRY, CONN., June 23.—Broadview is blue tonight, Red Top is brilliant red. Never were college colors more appropriate. Harvard celebrated at Red Top the game won at Yale's commencement exercises. Bonfire, rockets, roman candles, songs and cheers made the Crimson quarters merry till regulation bedtime. Rank weather conditions continue. Rain, mist, fog and cold winds. Nevertheless light practice goes on. It is reduced now to start with a gun. All crews were out twice today, morning and night.

Yale's 'varsity and freshmen four oars tried a quarter-mile brush, and the 'varsity won by a length at 42 strokes. The 'varsity rowed a mile up stream in moderate speed. Capt. McMahon's hand is getting better. He will row with the freshmen Thursday. Harvard had her fours out separately and her 'varsity and freshmen together, the latter racing for a few rods at a time from pistol starts.

New London harbor is filling with yachts. Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Alice will arrive Wednesday at 5 p. m. on the Sylph. The international racers, Columbia, Constitution and Reliance will stop over on their way to Newport and show their tall tops on the river tomorrow.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 23.—There was another steady, cold rain today, but, excepting Cornell's eights, it did not prevent the practice of the college crews. Coach Courtney says that the Wallians are as ready to race now as they will ever be.

The same thing may be said of Columbia and Pennsylvania 'varsity eights, and both of the Wisconsin crews, but Columbia's newly boated freshmen, Pennsylvania's freshmen, Georgetown's 'varsity and both of the Syracuse eights will be worked assiduously up to the very last minute, because their coaches feel there is still room for improvement in form and speed.

Having remained indoors all day, the Cornell eight came out for evening practice looking as fresh as the depressing weather conditions would permit. They paddled up stream, the freshmen waiting at the two-mile mark for the 'varsity to come down from the starting line. When Courtney sent his senior crew away he yelled: "I want you fellows to row as if the devil was after you," and the eight obeyed to the letter of the law. Courtney held the only stop watch on the boat as the crew tore down the course. At the two-mile point the Freshmen picked them up and held a lead of a length to the bridge, where Coffin, the 'varsity stroke, squared his jaw and hit up the stroke to 35. Half a mile from the finish the boats were on even terms and when Courtney shouted "Let her run" the 'varsity were a length to the good, lacking a yard.

The Cornell rooters on the launch said they had never seen their crew go so fast, but the coach, after observing some sticks which he had thrown upon the stream to test the ride, said the time was not satisfactory considering the conditions, but did not make the time public.

TRICKED THE YANKEES.

English Cricket Team Used Professionals Against Quakers.

LONDON, June 23.—The cricket match between the visiting Philadelphians and the Marylebone Cricket club eleven, which began at Lords grounds yesterday, was resumed today with more favorable weather. The action of the Marylebone club in introducing the professionals against the Philadelphians is considerably criticised as the original arrangement contemplated the participation of only gentlemen members of the club.

The visitors had little better luck in their second innings, having to face England's best professional bowlers, Mead, Trott and Hearne. The Philadelphians were all out for 56 runs in their second innings. The Marylebone players won by five wickets.

EGAN THE WINNER.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The first half of the international handball match for the championship of the world between Michael Egan of Jersey City, the present champion, and Timothy Twohill of Kanturk, Ireland, the Irish champion, was played today in Jersey City. Seven games were played and Egan won all of them, the best showing made by the visitor being six aces in the third game. In addition to the championship honor the match will decide a side stake of $500 each. Both principals will sail for Ireland next Saturday and the remainder of the match will be decided at Kanturk July 12. The scores of the seven games were: Egan, 21, 21, 21, 21, 21, 21, 21. Twohill, 5, 1, 5, 3, 6, 4, 0.

OLD TIMERS WATCHED YALE TEAM'S DEFEAT

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 23.—The class of 1873 which is holding its thirtieth anniversary reunion today saw for the first time a Yale nine defeated by Harvard in the commencement game. Harvard won 10 to 6. The game was made spectacular by the reunion classes with their white duck and blue uniforms, banners, bands marching and cheering and by the elements. It rained for hours before the game and during seven innings. Play was full of errors caused by the falls of fielders. The ball was so wet that Paoton and Woburn both had poor control. At the bases the men slid into mud puddles. Harvard took a batting streak in the fourth and quarter-way Yale's slight lead and put the game beyond recovery.

For six innings Patton, Yale's substitute pitcher, was in the box. In the fourth Harvard landed on his curves hard and the crimson players were enabled to tally six times, putting the lead beyond the power of Yale to recover.

The first three innings were commonplace, the fielding being generally hampered by the muddy grounds. In the fourth Kernan led off, hitting to Metcalf, who threw him out. Carr hit safely and stole second. Potton let Coburn reach first on his error. Coolidge singled, scoring Carr. Randall was out on an infield fly to Winslow. Stephenson hit to O'Rourke, who slipped in the mud. He dived for the third bag to get Coburn, but failed. With the bases filled and two men out Matthews hit to O'Rourke, who threw well to first, apparently beating out Matthews, but the umpire called the runner safe and Coburn scored. Clarkson followed, and with the bases still filled lifted a high fly to Barnes, who made a beautiful try, but only got one hand on the ball and it went past him. Three men scored on the hit. Stillman brought in Clarkson with a hit to right field. R. Kernan was at the bat when Winslow threw out Stillman by catching him stealing second.

The Yale batters were quickly retired in the fourth. In the fifth Kernan was thrown out by Metcalf and Carr sent a hot liner to O'Brien, who fielded it perfectly. Coburn singled to center and Coolidge was thrown out by O'Brien, retiring the side. Yale made one run in the fifth inning. Metcalf bunted and reached first on Kernan's wild throw. Barnwell forced Metcalf out at second and Chittenden lifted a fly to Stephenson. O'Rourke hit to Matthews, but Randall had his foot off the bag and O'Rourke was safe and Barnwell scored. Winslow retired the side with a fly to Stephenson.

In the sixth inning Bowman was ordered to warm up and was sent to bat in place of Patton. Cote and Barnes had reached first on passes. Bowman singled, but Barnes was thrown out at second. O'Brien hit to Coburn, who caught it, and by a double play caught Bowman off first base.

In the last three innings with Bowman in the box Harvard did not make a run and the game dragged to a wearisome length until it was almost dark. Score:

PITTSBURGH PHIL HORSES BARRED

Jockey Club Takes Strong Step Against George E. Smith, Well-Known Plunger.

HE WILL FIGHT THE CASE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
NEW YORK, June 23.

"Pittsburgh Phil" has been practically ruled off the turf. This drastic step was taken this afternoon by the Coney Island Jockey club and it may mean the retirement of the greatest plunger the racing field has known, George E. Smith, which is the name of the cork shaver of Pittsburgh, is given the freedom of the track, but his entries will not be accepted. It is even hinted that he may be requested not to attend the races in the east. Smith will fight, and he says so with emphasis.

For several weeks it has been known that trouble was in store for "Phil." Even last year it was whispered that he was in disfavor. It was then said that the jockey club, which is all-powerful in matters pertaining to the turf in this section, had objected to his heavy wagers.

It is now known that word was sent to him that his methods were deemed pernicious, and that he would oblige if he would cut down his operations. Answer was returned that "Pittsburgh Phil" of his own accord had determined to make fewer and smaller wagers.

His operations this year have been upon a minor scale as compared with those of last year. Yet he has been in constant danger ever since racing opened in this state. This was emphasized when "Willie" Shaw, a jockey, developed by him, was ruled off the turf. The final blow came today. Discussing the matter tonight, Mr. Smith said: "I am so surprised that I hardly know what to say. It is not that this blow has fallen unexpectedly, but I feel that a mean advantage has been taken by my enemies. I was at Sheepshead Bay this afternoon and I was there for the purpose of seeing the racing officials an opportunity of questioning me if they desired to do so. I was not asked a question, and I received no intimation of the action they were about to take. And now I am told that they have ordered that my entries shall not be accepted. This is a disgrace to me which I shall not accept in any meek manner.

"My honor is at stake. I am willing to spend my money to clear myself. Why, I will go broke fighting for my honor. I will take this matter to the highest court I can reach."

HOMESTEAD DEFEATS ALL-INTERSCHOLASTIC TEAM

Risherites Get Over Muddy Field Better Than School Boys, Win, 17 to 6.

Homestead proved to be the better mud team yesterday afternoon at Steel Works park and won from the All-Interscholastics, 17 to 6, in a game that was replete with base hits. The field was heavy with mud and on account of this the schoolboys in the outfield seemed to be unable to navigate after the short flies that were sent out on Don Doyle, the young Princeton southpaw. Doyle began the game and did well until the fifth inning, when the Risherites scored four runs on three hits, a hit by pitcher and an error.

Doyle retired and "Red" Smith, the West Virginia crack, went in. Up to the ninth the steelworkers were able to negotiate his delivery for but one run, but in the final round the —— in seven on him.

"Slab" Burns opposed the students, and he certainly had his troubles. He was stood up for 14 hits, but they were mostly all scattered, and then the fielders behind him made sensational stops and catches.

The first three men up for the students got on. Spahler waited, Ferguson, the Cornell freshwaterman, hit to right and Price laid down a neat bunt. Not one scored, as the next three men went out. In the third inning Spahler again was walked and Ferguson slammed the ball against the right field fence. Spahler floundered in the mud going around the circuit and was nailed at home by a fine throw from Pearson to Cosgrove to Cursey. Score:

Davidson, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, will be his best man, and the ushers will be C. A. Chess and W. P. Cooper.

Several entertainments have been given in honor of the bride, among them being the kitchen shower which Miss Eleanor Berg of Stanton avenue gave last Thursday. On Friday evening Miss Loughridge entertained for her. On Monday evening of this week Mr. and Mrs. Oglesby gave a dinner preceding the rehearsal for the entire bridal party. Last evening Mrs. Hugh ones of Lothrop street also gave a dinner.

Social Notes.

Miss Belle T. Bailey and Arthur M. Finck, popular young people of Butler, Pa., were married last evening at the home of the bride by the Rev. E. S. White, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

EPISCOPALIANS ARE ACCUSED OF IDOLATRY

English Clergyman Writes Strong Letter of Protest to Bishop Potter.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 23.—R. C. Pilkingham, vicar of Hexton, England, in a letter to Bishop Potter, says the rector and communicans of the Church of St. Mary the Virgin in this city are committing idolatry at their services in defiance of the laws of the Protestant Episcopal church. He writes as follows:

I was present last Sunday at St. Mary the Virgin. That church is a congregation of the Protestant Episcopal church—a body which solemnly denies any intention to depart from the Church of England in any essential point of doctrine, discipline, or worship. The whole service was a flagrant defiance of Protestantism. The Church of England was reformed especially to get rid of the mass. Put on Sunday what was openly and cynically termed 'high mass' was performed. Vestments were worn, incense was burned, genuflections were made; and all these things are in flagrant defiance of the discipline of the English church; they are absolutely illegal. And the proceedings culminated in the elevation and adoration of the senseless elements of bread and wine—an act of idolatry, which, as our prayer book says, should be abhorred by all Christians.

I write to you, therefore, to solemnly urge the exercise of your Episcopal authority in the matter of this glaring scandal.

GERMAN BAND GAVE BRIDAL PAIR A SEND-OFF

Last night was a great night for wedding parties at the Union station, not less than four happy couples going east on the Pittsburgh limited. The existence of one couple was made particularly wretched by the exertions of a large party of thoughtful friends who hired "a little German band" to precede the bride and groom to the station. A large crowd of boys was attracted and added to the serenade. The people about the station gathered around the couple, so that for several minutes they were unable to escape through the gates to the train. The band was kept playing until the train pulled out, when an officer ordered the musicians off of the station property.

NO SUMMER VACATION FOR THIS SECTION

The photographic section of the Academy of Science and Art, met last night in the lecture hall of Carnegie institute. Before the exhibition of exchange slides a short business session was held at which it was decided to continue the meetings throughout the summer. This is an experiment, but the demand seems to justify it. Exhibitions of exchange lantern slides will be held on alternate Tuesdays. About 160 views were shown last night. They were exchanges of the societies of Hartford, Conn.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Akron, O.; Tacoma, Wash., and New York city.

Concert Tonight

One of the most interesting entertainments of a musical and dramatic kind that the mid-season has afforded will be given at the Alvin theater tonight as a benefit under the direction of W. H. Totten. Miss Sorah Truax, the popular leading lady at the Grand Opera house, has come on from New York and will be seen in an entirely new sketch from the pen of Samuel Harden Church, entitled "The Bandbox Episode." Miss Truax reached the city yesterday and is stopping at the Schenley. In a musical way the entertainment will be equally distinguished. Miss Catherine Vilsack, one of the most talented vocalists in the city, will sing, as will also Miss Lippert and Mrs. Gilmore, equally well known in local musical circles. Mr. Dunlevy will figure in the program in some of his humorous monologues, and the entire affair promises to be of superior excellence.

After the Curfew Law.

The Woman's Improvement club of Homestead has succeeded in interesting prominent and influential people in the borough as to the need of a curfew law. Such an ordinance will be presented to the borough council on the first Monday evening in July. The ministers of Homestead have lately cooperated with the club women in this movement, and last Sunday the Rev. N. P. Hymson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and the Rev. W. H. Weaver, pastor of the Pennsylvania avenue Methodist Episcopal church, preached from their pulpits on the need of a curfew law.

THE only school garden in Pittsburgh this summer will be at the Fortieth street school. Already the ground has been prepared for the planting and but for the heavy rains which have made it so wet and soft, the small plants would have been put in last week. They will be planted before the end of this week, however, and will be growing nicely by the time the playground and the vacation school open.

The school garden at the Fortieth street school consists of a plot of ground in the rear of the school, 100 feet square. Because of the laziness of the pupils Mrs. J. J. Covert, who has charge of this feature of the summer work in Lawrenceville, has decided to have a floral garden instead of planting early vegetables. She will strive after a landscape garden effect in this plot. The principal flowers will be geraniums, petunias, ageratum and verbenas, while pansies, candytuft and several other flowers will be added.

In five other playgrounds, because of no ground available, the school gardens will be replaced by window boxes filled with flowers which the children will take care of during the weeks the playgrounds are open.

Last Meeting This Season.

The educational department of the permanent civic committee held its last meeting this season in the Civic club rooms yesterday morning. It was decided to hold no meetings during the summer, because the greater number of the women working through this department are also actively engaged in carrying on the summer playgrounds and vacation schools.

Only one sub-committee reported yesterday, that having charge of the decoration of the school rooms. This committee proposes to enlarge the traveling collection of photographs, casts and engravings which has been loaned from time to time to the different schools in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and intends to add to the attractiveness of the schools by pictures and casts which will be used to illustrate the course of study pursued in the several grades, as its funds permit the committee in addition to the present collection of pictures and preparing for its work in decorating the school rooms in the fall. The next meeting of the educational department will be held the fourth Tuesday in October.

Juvenile Court Committee Meets.

The monthly meeting of the juvenile court committee of the permanent civic committee of Women's clubs, was held yesterday morning at the Twentieth Century club in Duquesne way. Mrs. E. E. Croker, the vice chairman, presided in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Richard R. Quay. The committee listened to a report made by Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery, the probation officer, covering in detail her work during the past month.

Union Meeting at Sewickley.

A union meeting for social, literary and devotional services will be held in the United Presbyterian church of Sewickley Thursday night. It will be participated in by the six young people's societies of the valley churches. An address will be delivered by the Rev. W. E. McCullough, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, East End, Pittsburgh. Instrumental music will be furnished by Miss Mabon McElwaine and Miss Elizabeth L. Quinn, and by the Neely mandolin club and the Arion male quartet. Wilbur Walker, soprano singer of the choir of the Sewickley Episcopal church, will render a solo.

Anti-Cigarette Movement.

The women of Wilmerding are agitating the organization of a Woman's club in that town, looking toward an effort for the suppression of the sale of cigarettes. It has the hearty indorsement of other clubs and the anti-cigarette movement will be made an issue in the new club. The passage of the bill by the last state legislature prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to children under 16 years of age and making a grave offense of the purchase of cigarettes by an adult for the use of minors, was largely due to the influence exerted by women, and in Wilmerding they will make an effort to have the new law enforced. The organization of the club will probably be effected in the early fall.

Wimodausis at Kennywood Park.

The Wimodausis club will have its annual outing at Kennywood park, this afternoon and evening. It will be held no matter what the weather is. The pavilion, where the card tables will be placed, has been reserved for the exclusive use of the club and its friends, as well as the dancing pavilion, where during the evening dancing will be indulged. Euchre will be played during the afternoon and 16 handsome prizes will be given those having the winning scores.

Entertainments on the Pier in Full Swing and Are Well Patronized, Despite the Inclement Weather—Newspaper Men Denounce Salus-Grady Libel Bill.

Young's Ocean Pier
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 23.

A northeast storm struck Atlantic City early this morning and the rain fell in torrents all day. The wind drove the tide up on the beach so high this afternoon that at places it dashed over the sidewalk. The crowd is here at last, however, and nobody seems to mind the rain. The piers are full tonight, the auction stores are crowded and the boardwalk is very lively.

Press Delegates in Session.

The first business session of the International League of Press clubs convened at the Steel pier at 2 o'clock this afternoon. An address of welcome was delivered by Mayor Stoy, president of the Atlantic City Press club, after which committees were named and the credentials of the delegates were received. The most important business transacted was the adoption of a resolution condemning the Grady-Salus libel law of Pennsylvania.

The resolution says the law was "born in the darkness of political perfidity, and with every decent lawmaker disclaiming responsibility, was railroaded through the legislature." The repeal of the law by the next sesion of the legislature is demanded, so that when "newspaper men and women have occasion to go outside their state they will not be ashamed to acknowledge that they live in Pennsylvania."

The delegates have been arriving since yesterday morning on all incoming trains, and there are now about 150 in attendance. A number of states are represented, including Utah, Oregon and California. As fast as the delegates arrive they are reporting at the headquarters of the local committee in parlors E and F of the Hotel Rudolf to register and receive a souvenir program and the official badge. Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood arrived last evening and is stopping at the Hotel Dunlop. She came as the guest of the local committee. Tonight the delegates are being entertained at the Steel pier when a dance is in progress.

Seedsmen in Convention.

Seedsmen from all over the country assembled at the first session of the twenty-first anual meeting of the American Seed Trade association at the St. Charles hotel this morning. The subject of free seed distribution by the government will be considered as it has been ever since the distribution began. Seed dealers assert that the free distribution of articles that they sell seriously injure their business.

Electrotypers Transact Business.

The first business session of the National Electrotypers' association convened at the Hotel Rudolf this morning. At the conclusion of the reading of the minutes the annual address of President Benedict was read.

The convention is looking forward with great interest to the banquet to be given at the Hotel Rudolf tomorrow evening, which promises to be one of the most entertaining functions in the history of the organization. A special menu has been provided. Among the guests of honor who will be asked to attend will be Mayor Stoy and the officers of the National Association of Photo Engravers, which meets at the Rudolf this week.

BIG BOND DEAL GETS INTO COURT

Securities Company of Pittsburgh Defendant in Suit to Recover $80,000.

TONY GREGG IS CONVICTED

Italian Found Guilty of Murder in the Second Degree—Judges Frazer and Rodgers Finish Divorce Trial List—Village Estate Is Partitioned.

The Standard Motive Power Company, through their attorneys Thompson & Thompson, has brought suit in the court of common pleas No. 1 against the Securities Company of Pittsburgh, to recover $80,000. The plaintiff alleges that the defendant agreed to underwrite and sell certain of its bonds in the sum of $150,000, the bonds to be sold at not less than par. The defendant agreed within 15 days after the execution of the agreement on April 13, 1903, to deposit in the North American Trust Company of New York city to the credit of the plaintiff $10,000, and $25,000 on the 15th day of each month thereafter, until the full sum of $150,000 had been paid. The Securities Company is in arrears on this contract in the sum of $80,000, it is alleged, and the plaintiff sues to recover this amount.

The jury in the trial of Tony Gregg, charged with the murder of Michael Francone, after an hour and a half deliberation, returned a verdict yesterday evening finding the defendant guilty of second degree murder.

The plea set up by the defendant was self-defense.

Convicted on Third Trial.

S. Maltinsky, a jeweler of Braddock, was convicted of a charge of false pretense preferred by John Ronyecz. This was the third trial of the case.

Dan Winfield and Gust Farmer, both negroes, were convicted on separate charges of felonious assault and battery, committed on each other, and sentenced to the workhouse for six months each.

Judges R. S. Frazer and Elliott Rodgers in common pleas court No. 2 finished the divorce trial list. One case of importance was that of the wife of W. H. Hull against the latter, who is a well-known Penn avenue shirt maker. It was shown that Hull insisted upon his wife living with his parents when their domestic relations were not pleasant. Witness also testified that Hull brought a young woman to this city from Chicago and after a week passed by "he shipped her back."

Willing To Take Her Back.

Another case was that of Frances Freitsch against Martin Freitsch. Cruelty was alleged. The respondent was in court, and when asked if he had ever struck his wife, he replied:

"Oh, I don't say I didn't. She spit in my face and I slapped her. If she swears she will lead a good life I will take her back." Other cases heard were: Elizabeth Smith against Joseph Smith and Elizabeth Gill against Andrew L. Gill.

An answer was filed in the divorce case of John Weber against Pauline Weber. In the latter denies the charge of infidelity and demands a jury trial.

Judge J. W. Over handed down an opinion in the matter of the partition of the real estate of the late George Vilsack. The real estate consists of valuable property in this county and the finding is an important one. The partition was asked for by the children of Elizabeth Kraus, who was a daughter of the decedent.

Term is Comprehensive.

By his will George Vilsack left his entire estate to his widow, and at her death to their children. At the death of either or all of the children the estate goes to the children's children, and if any of the children of the decedent should die without issue, the estate goes to all of the grandchildren. The widow of the decedent died October 21, 1896 and the daughter, Elizabeth Kraus, died October 20, 1897. The question arose as to whether the children of the testator take the estate in fee.

The court says it seems that the testator intended to limit the estate given to his children to their lineal heirs, or issue, which shows also his intention to use the word "children" in its comprehensive and extended sense, meaning issue or heirs of the body. The court in conclusion, says that although the gift to the testator's sons and daughters is the proceeds or interest of his estate, yet as his intention seems to have been to give the proceeds to them, however, it is equivalent to a devise of the fee.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

The will of Bridget Connolly was filed, Mary Connolly taking out letters on the estate. Attorneys P. C. and E. J. McKenna have charge of the estate.

An answer was filed in the equity case of Frank Fuehr and Louis Miller against their father, Frederick C. Fuehr, to restrain him from disposing of property deeded to him by his wife. The children claim the property was placed with him as a trust, and this is denied by the father.

Attorney L. S. Levin representing Charles Cameron Smith, James Shinehouse, Ellsworth Massy, Henry W. Carroll, Louis Livingstone Minor, Andrew Perry, James Powell and others applied for a charter for the Washington club of Pittsburgh. The organization proposes to maintain a library and educate its members in scientific, literary and economic subjects.

An answer was filed yesterday in the case of Henry Erdman against Samuel Fleisig, an action to recover on a note given, it was claimed, for an insurance policy. The defendant claims the plaintiff insisted upon insuring him notwithstanding that he told the plaintiff that he was not in good health. The defendant says he signed a paper, but as he cannot read or write he does not know whether it was a promissory note or not that he signed. He declares that if the note is payable to the person mentioned in the bill it is a fraud.

STOPPED THE FIGHT WITH HIS DOG NET

Thomas Whalen, Charles Spencer and Archibald Sutton, negroes, were up before Magistrate Samuel Abernathy of Allegheny yesterday. Spencer and Whalen work on the city dog wagon. While passing down Spring alley someone hit Sutton with a brick and thinking Whalen guilty, he punched the latter. A fight followed and Spencer saved his co-worker by throwing a dog net over Sutton, rendering him helpless. The three split the costs yesterday and were dismissed.

Happenings of the Day

—Taxpayers in the rural districts may be saved the expense of unnecessary trips to the county seat. Attorney Frank J. Cotter has discovered a law by which borough tax collectors are authorized to collect state and county taxes, and proposes to have the matter passed upon by the courts.

A large collection of moths from Costa Rica was received yesterday at the Carnegie Museum from Prof. C. V. Hartman and Francisco Maria Conder, who have been engaged in collecting throughout Central America.

—Pittsburgh police were kept busy looking for demented persons yesterday. In the morning Mrs. Ann Dobbie of Philadelphia asked for assistance in locating her daughter, who had disappeared from the Union station. W. H. Kerr, aged 55, who wandered away from the county home, was picked up by the police in the West End and returned to his home in Wilkinsburg.

The Rev. J. B. Ricketts, for 16 years the pastor of the Wilmerding United Presbyterian church, has refused a call to a New York pastorate which was extended to him about 10 days ago. Mr. Ricketts had lately preached in an eastern pulpit.

INCREASED THE STOCK.

Two-thirds Was Given as a Dividend to the Stockholders.

The capital stock of the Peoples Natural Gas and Pipeage Company was yesterday increased from $500,000 to $650,000. Of this additional $150,000 two-thirds, or $100,000, was made a stock dividend. The remaining $50,000 was placed in the treasury of the company for improvement purposes, to be used as it may be needed.

The meeting of the stockholders to authorize the increase was held at the German National bank, Sixth avenue and Wood street, and was presided over by L. S. McKallip, president of the company.

The company has a large amount of pipeage for natural gas in Allegheny. It pays a 2 per cent quarterly dividend. President McKallip said yesterday that the increase in the stock will not decrease the dividend rate.

IMPROVED TONE TO STOCK MARKET

The Volume of Trading Was Smaller, but Prices Closed at Best—Shorts Squeezed in Colorado Fuel—Local Financial Gossip.

By JOHN O. EAGLE, Financial Editor.

Despite lower London quotations, the tone of the eastern stock market yesterday was firmer. The volume of trading, however, was smaller than for any full day for a long time, the sales for the first two hours reaching only 115,000 shares, and for the entire session only 321,000 shares. A jump of 4 points in Metropolitan Securities and a slight advance in Metropolitan Street Railway was the response of the market to the dismissal of the suit against the company and gave better tone to that group of stocks. During the morning session the only other features of note were the rather heavy selling of Pennsylvania, which declined 1 per cent, and the uneasiness manifested by the shorts in Colorado Fuel and Iron. The latter had opened at 62½ and reacted to 61⅝, but from the latter price there was a sharp advance, the stock reaching 69¾ in the final dealings and closing at 69, a net gain of 7 per cent for the day. Of all the iron and steel stocks on the list, Colorado Fuel would naturally be selected by the bears for a short sale. The stock is a non-dividend payer, and the recent incident in connection with the payment of one of its notes naturally produced a bearish feeling. The directors have more than once demonstrated the inharmonious character of the management. But the market had evidently been oversold, and the anxiety of the shorts to cover was responsible for the jump in the price, nearly a dollar a share at times marking the fluctuations. This movement appeared to have an effect in the remainder of the list and the market became strong in the final dealings, closing prices being at the highest of the day. Pennsylvania recovered to 124¾, Baltimore & Ohio to 85¼ and St. Paul to 151¼. United States Steel common rallied to 30½ and closed at 30. The preferred recovered to 80 and closed at 79¾. Amalgamated Copper advanced a point to 54 and closed at the best.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

The extreme dullness of the speculative and investment markets may be taken as the measure of the uncertainty on the part of the public and professional operators as to the immediate future of general business and stock market values. It is not improbable that the two may run counter to each other, for a time at least, owing to money market conditions. There is no doubt whatever that a considerable improvement has taken place in the tone of the iron and steel market within the past two or three days and that orders which were being held back are now coming in more freely. It is also true that some improvement has taken place in the labor situation, and an early and general resumption of building operations will make itself felt in other lines of trade. The strength in the grain markets is said to be due more to the condition of European crops and supplies than to any further deterioration in domestic crops. The revoking of the duties on imports of grain into Great Britain next week should result in a better foreign demand for our breadstuffs. All of these items count on the side for betterment in general trade. The one thing that may prevent a response of security values is the condition of the money market. New York bank reserves are low for the season and loans are high. A similar condition prevails throughout the interior. The low rates for call money, due to the fact that many Wall street houses provided themselves with time funds to carry them over the end of the year, make possible exports of gold. Nearly $8,000,000 went out yesterday and there is some expectation that more will be engaged today for export tomorrow. The money market cannot supply the demands of general trade, the withdrawals of gold to Europe, and at the same time meet the requirements of an active bull speculation. It is therefore possible that general business will continue active, absorbing loanable funds, and that the stock market will remain dull because there will be no surplus at the command of Wall street operators. This condition of affairs, however, will not prevent a repetition of incidents like that witnessed in Colorado Fuel and Iron yesterday. The bears may select some stock they believe to be vulnerable, oversell the market, and a squeeze will result, but these movements will be merely little local eddies in an otherwise stagnant market for some time to come.

The trading in local stocks yesterday reached only 2,100 shares. It was the dullest day experienced for many weeks. The lack of public interest was demonstrated by the failure of several important incidents to affect the stocks involved. For instance, the Safe Deposit and Trust Company voted the increase in capital to take over the Peoples National bank, as foreshadowed some weeks ago, but there were no transactions in Safe Deposit, and the stock was not even quoted. The same was true of Peoples Natural Gas and Pipeage, the stockholders of which authorized an increase in capital and the directors declared a stock dividend of 20 per cent, but no quotations were made on the stock all day. The Manufacturers Light and Heat stockholders voted the increase in stock and bonds, but only 20 shares Manufacturers changed hands and the price was unchanged at 39½. The directors of Ohio Fuel Supply declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent, but only 50 shares of the stock changed hands and the price remained unchanged at 42¾. National Fire Proofing lost a portion of the gain of the day before, the common declining to 24⅜ and the preferred to 36½, the latter recovering to 36¾. River Coal was unchanged at 10½ for the common and 40¼ for the preferred, although the rise in the rivers is enabling the company to ship an enormous tonnage to southern markets. The steel stocks were quiet and unchanged. Another day passed without a transaction in Westinghouse Electric, the stock remaining unchanged at 94¼@95½. Air brake was unchanged at 156.

The feature in the trust group was the decline in American Trust to 490, with a subsequent recovery to 495 bid at the close. Colonial Trust did not change hands but was nominally quoted at 590 bid, 595 asked. Federal National declined 2 per cent to 168. Dollar Savings Fund and Trust sold at 290 and was in fair demand at that price bid. There was nothing done in the bond department and prices remained unchanged.

TWO EAST END SALES ANNOUNCED

Nos. 5913-15 Penn Avenue Bring $60,250 and No. 5817 Is Sold for $25,000.

WEST NEWTON SITE BOUGHT

Choice Residence Properties Change Hands—Deals Out Penn Avenue—Real Estate Company in New Home—Wet Weather a Great Loss to Lot Sellers.

Two good sales of East End property were announced yesterday, both having been made by O'Donnell & Jenny. For H. H. Negley these brokers sold to A. J. Mansmann Nos. 5913-5915 Penn avenue for $60,250 cash. They are on the north side of the avenue, about midway between Beatty and Whitfield streets, and measure 50.2x145 feet to Kirkwood street. The lot is improved with a two-story frame building now occupied by three store rooms, which bring an annual rent of $2,700.

The other deal, which was also a cash sale and not a trade, as the name of the seller might indicate, was the sale of No. 5817 Penn avenue for $25,000. It belonged to A. J. Mansmann and was sold to a prominent East End investor. The lot is 25x145 feet and is on the north side of Penn avenue between Beatty and Euclid streets. It is a three-story brick house that rents for $72 50 a month. The first sale was at the rate of about $1,200 a front foot and the second brought $1,000 a front foot. This part of Penn avenue has come into considerable notice lately through the purchase by D. M. Ferguson of the whole square of property at the northwest corner of Penn and North Highland avenues and the purchase by McCargo & Miller of a large property on the south side of the avenue near Whitfield street.

Site for Glass Factory Secured.

A tract of 40 acres at West Newton has just been bought by a local realty man named Phillips for $16,000, or $400 an acre. It adjoins the borough of West Newton and has a long frontage on the Youghiogheny river. Of the entire plot eight acres will be used as a site for a glass factory. A company is now being organized to build a plant that will employ 150 men, and it is expected that operations will begin soon. The remainder of the property will be plotted into large lots and sold on easy payments.

James F. Powell has sold to Maud Roberts 64x100 feet, at the southwest corner of Maryland avenue and Elmer street, Twentieth ward, for $2,000. The lot is improved with a large brick house.

Too Much of a Soaking.

The liberal service which Jupiter Pluvius is rendering nowadays is having a most discouraging effect upon lot dealers. Plans that should appear in all their glory at this season are covered with puddles of water, and to cross them means a continuous plunging into unknown depths of mire. Brokers who report a large number of inquiries daily for lots hesitate to take out their prospective customers for fear the damp outlook under foot disgusts them. The wet weather is a serious obstacle to the agents, too, because it stops all grading and paving on some plans where the utmost haste is being made to complete arrangements for an early sale.

The Merchants Savings & Trust Company moved into its permanent quarters at Nos. 1410-1412 Fifth avenue, where it occupies the entire first floor of a large four-story brick building. The banking offices are in the front of the room and the real estate department, which is managed by H. M. Herman, occupies commodious quarters in the rear. The offices are finished in maple and mahogany, and make one of the most tasty and convenient office homes to be found down town.

Tube City Wants Maccabees' Home.

It is reported that McKeesport is after the home which the Pennsylvania Maccabees propose to build for members of the order who are unable to provide for themselves. The cost of the home is to be raised by a tax of $1 upon each of the 31,000 members of the order in Pennsylvania. This sum, with private subscription, it is thought, will be sufficient for a large and handsome home. The fact that McKeesport has a large following among the lodges of Western Pennsylvania should work to her advantage in securing the institution.

Allegheny: W. F. Westenhaeusen sold for Maria Beith to Max Arnold for $5,000, with a large brick house thereon, in the Evergreen road, near East street, Fourteenth ward, Allegheny, for $8,000. The same broker sold for Federal Anna Gangewere to William Krone of Mendelssohn, two lots, 50x134 feet, at No. 16 Ganster street, Etna, for $1,600.

Sewickley: W. L. Scott & Co. sold for Dr. H. J. McCready to Frank W. Gilleland, a seven-room frame house, lot 60x125 feet, in Frederick avenue, Sewickley, for $3,500.

Webster avenue: S. S. Arnold sold for George Stein and Jacob Greenberger to Jacob Goldblum, No. 1839 Webster avenue, Eleventh ward, a two-story brick house on lot 20x75 feet, for $1,500.

Poor Showing in Building.

Building permits were issued yesterday to George Buchinger for a frame dwelling in Arlington avenue, Twenty-seventh ward, to cost $1,100; Catherine Gerlitz, one-story frame dwelling, Carver street, Twenty-first ward, $8,878; Albert Holowinski, frame dwelling, Chelsea street, Twenty-seventh ward, $1,400.

DEALERS EXPECTING HIGHER OAT PRICES

Higher Wheat Makes Flour Very Strong—California Plums Now Arriving.

While there was no change in quotations for oats yesterday, dealers feel that the market is going to advance, for the situation is possessed of great strength and it would not be surprising to see higher prices next week. Hay is in the same condition. Offerings yesterday were stiffly held, and, although bidders on change did not see their way clear to meet sellers' views, they were told that they will make more liberal bids than previously were heard. Corn is firm, but was not in active demand yesterday. Millfeed is unchanged and is coming in but shortly. Straw is slow at quotations.

There is continued firmness in the flour situation, the strength shown by wheat in the last few days leading to the opinion that 10¢ advance in flour is imminent. So far it has not come, however, and jobbers are still waiting to see what millers will do. Sugar and coffee remain at former figures, with demand moderate. Canned goods are selling freely and jobbers are advising their customers to purchase California fruits, with the belief that there will be short packs of nearby products. Dried fruits are steady.

There were no price changes in the fruit and produce market yesterday. A few strawberries were received and sold readily, as buyers realize the season is rapidly approaching a close. Raspberries and blackberries were in good supply, with prices held firm by the active demand. Peas are more plentiful than at the close of last week, but are in steady request and prices are firm. New apples find purchasers at quotations, although as yet the offerings are limited. California plums have made their appearance and bring $1 50 a box.

No change has come as yet to the poultry situation and chickens are holding their own as to price. Springers are coming forward freely, but are still of small size.

Butter is steady, cheese is unchanged and good eggs are very firm.

HAY, GRAIN AND FEED.

HOUSE MARKET.

Judged by results at the auction sales of the last two weeks, buyers of houses are getting their wants supplied to a certain extent, and are not so willing to pay top prices as earlier in the season. Offerings of desirable properties were about on a par with those of a week ago, when there was a scarcity in proportion to the demand. Prices ruled firm, with a good demand for heavy straight loans, and for these there is no fault to be found with prices secured.

AMERICAN SHIPS ARRIVE AT KIEL

Are Escorted Into Harbor by Eight Battleships and Six Cruisers.

PRINCE HENRY DOES HONORS

All German Vessels Dressed and Flying the Stars and Stripes—Day Spent in Exchanging Courtesies—Distinguished Guests Beginning to Appear.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

KIEL, GERMANY, June 23.—The United States European squadron, Rear Admiral Cotton in command, reached its anchorage opposite the yacht club house at noon today. The fleet commanded by Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia, consisting of eight battleships and six cruisers, saluted the American vessels and the band of the German flagship played "America." Some hundreds of the townspeople gathered on the piers and slopes of the narrow bay and cheered as the squadron arrived.

Prince Henry sent his navigating officers and the captain of the fort down the bay early in the morning to meet the Americans. They met the latter at Orlateu as the squadron was firing its first salute off the fort of Friederichsort.

The flagship Kearsarge swung into her mooring next to the place reserved for the emperor's yacht Hohenzollern, followed by the San Francisco, Chicago and Machias, all the German ships being dressed in the visitors' honor and flying the stars and stripes. The comanders of the American ships then called on Prince Henry, who immediately returned their calls. The stars and stripes were raised over the yacht club and on the hotels in the vicinity.

Prince Henry simplified the interchange of calls by suggesting that Rear Admiral Cotton, his staff officer, Lieut. Hussey, Captain Hemphill and all the captains of the American squadron should meet him, his staff and all the commanders of the American ships on board his flagship Kaiser Frederich III. Prince Henry then returned the call on Rear Admiral Cotton and talked half an hour with him. The Prince examined the outside of the Kearsarge's double turret, but did not go inside, as there were seven German admirals on shore duty who were waiting to visit Rear Admiral Cotton. Prince Henry complimented the American officers on the smart appearance of the squadron, which had been freshly painted at Nyborg, Denmark. Rear Admiral Cotton and the captains of the American vessels will take lunch with Prince and Princess Henry tomorrow.

The following notabilities arrived today for the regatta: United States Ambassador Charlemagne Tower, United States Consul General Frank Mason, the prince and princess of Pless, the princess of Thurn and Taxis, Baron Louis Rothschild, Herr Balin, director of the Hamburg-American line, Achmed Bey and Baron and Baroness Echardstein.

Mr. Goelet's 30-footer Swan, the only American-owned boat entered in the regatta, has been exercising over the course in the lower bay since her arrival here last Friday. Her owner is assisted in sailing her by Hopkins Smith, who with Uncle Sam, won the cup given for boats of her class in 1902.

MAKES CALL IN BALLOON AT HIS HOME IN PARIS

Santos-Dumont Again Demonstrates the Dirigibility of His Airship.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, June 23.—Santos Dumont made his first appearance today in airship "No. 9" over the center of Paris. He started from Longchamps, going in the direction of the Place de l'Etoile. He executed a number of skillful maneuvers over the Place de l'Etoile, made a turn of the Arc d'Triomphe and turned down the Champs Elysee, brought his airship down at the door of his house. Later he returned to Longchamps. There was little wind.

The ship maintained an altitude of about a hundred feet and answered her helm perfectly. "No. 9" is the smallest airship Santos Dumont has yet constructed. She measures about 8,300 cubic feet, has a three horse power engine and resembles an elongated egg.

POLICEMAN WITH EACH BEER ORDER

Fayette County License Court Lays Down Rigid Regulation to Brewers.

THEY MUST PRESERVE ORDER

Made Responsible for Infractions of the Law at Christenings, Weddings and Merrymakings in the Coke Regions.

Pittsburgh brewers are interested in a set of very rigid regulations laid down by the Fayette county license court. Under these rules the local beer makers are practically excluded from supplying the amber fluid for the numerous weddings, christenings and merrymakings incident to the lives of the foreigners in the coke regions.

While Judges Reppert and Umbel have protected a large part of the trade to the Fayette brewer, they have made it necessary for him to walk a very straight line in the transaction of his business. There are 56 judicial districts in the state, and the courts of each annually make rules for the liquor dealers to follow. The regulations of the Fayette bench relative to brewers are said to be without parallel in the state.

There is a very large foreign population in Fayette county, and their numerous celebrations quite often result in serious infractions of the law. In the latter the brewer who supplies the drink will be responsible for the peace and good order at the merrymaking. He must furnish a police officer with each order of beer. Here is the ruling of the court:

Agents shall not be allowed to take or solicit orders for weddings, christenings, parties, festivals or other merrymakings. All such orders must be given in person at the brewery and paid for in cash. A duly qualified peace officer wearing a badge, whose duty it shall be to preserve peace and good order, shall be on the grounds when the goods are delivered pursuant to such order, and shall remain until such wedding, christening, festival, party or merrymaking is over. The fees and expenses of such officer shall be paid by the party or parties delivering the goods.

In Uniontown it will not be possible to drop around at the brewery and secure a quiet drink. The court rules:

Presents or premiums or extras at Christmas or any other time shall not be given to or allowed customers. Buyers at the brewery shall not be treated, nor shall agents be allowed goods or extras for the same purpose. Visitors at breweries shall not be treated, but bona fide purchasers may be given samples of goods.

Each package leaving the brewery must bear a tag showing that it is sold and paid for, the name of the purchaser, his address and the name of the agent taking the order. If the goods are delivered to other than the person named on the card the person delivering the package will be guilty of selling liquor without license. If the package cannot be delivered to the person named it must be returned. Agents cannot take an order unless the cash accompanies it. Orders by mail or carrier must be accompanied by the cash. All agents must be placed on a salary. The court makes this ruling as to the qualifications of agents and drivers:

All agents shall be men of temperate habits, of mature years and judgment, who can read, write and speak the English language, who are citizens of the United States and thoroughly familiar with the laws governing the sale of vinous, spirituous, malt and brewed liquors, and also familiar with the regulations of this court in regard thereto; and they shall be so certified to the court by the person or party employing them. Provided, that any agent now actually employed, and otherwise competent and qualified, who has taken out his first papers but is not eligible to make application for a final certificate of citizenship, may be retained in his employment until he becomes eligible to make such application, and the certificate herein provided for shall set forth the facts as to such agents. Agents employed hereafter shall be qualified as hereinabove provided.

The drivers of brewery wagons must have the same qualifications. The brewer must file with the courts a list of agents and drivers.

Agents of the Fayette breweries cannot solicit trade outside of the county, except with licensed dealers. All sales and deliveries to the local trade must be made before 6 o'clock in the evening. The court also makes this ruling:

"Goods shall neither be sold or furnished to speakeasies or disorderly houses."

A PRINCE'S BIRTHDAY.

Eldest Son of the Prince of Wales the Recipient of Many Honors.

LONDON, June 23.—Queen Alexandra's children's party in honor of the 9th birthday of Prince Edward, eldest son of the prince of Wales, and heir presumptive to the throne, took place today.

King Edward drove to Marlborough house, the residence of the prince of Wales, to personally congratulate his grandson, who was the recipient of innumerable presents from various courts of Europe.

A prominent club woman, Mrs. Danforth, of St. Joseph, Mich., tells how she was cured of falling of the womb and its accompanying pains.

"Life looks dark indeed when a woman feels that her strength is sapping away and she has no hopes of ever being restored. Such was my feeling a few months ago when I was advised that my poor health was caused by prolapsus or falling of the womb. The words sounded like a knell to me. I felt that my sun had set; but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound came to me as an elixir of life; it restored the lost forces and built me up until my good health returned to me. For four months I took the medicine daily and each dose added health and strength. I am so thankful for the help I obtained through its use."—Mrs. Florence Danforth, 1007 Miles Ave., St. Joseph, Mich.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

The record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cannot be equalled by any other medicine in the world.

"FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN."

Women would save time and much sickness if they would write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice as soon as any distressing symptoms appear.

NEW CITY DIRECTORY WILL BE ISSUED IN JULY

Big Increase in the Size of the Volume Has Caused Much Extra Labor—The Views of a Local Druggist.

The 1903 edition of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny directory will not make its appearance until July. The book will be considerably larger than that of last year, and its preparation has caused a wonderful increase in work in all departments concerned in its publication. The publishers announced yesterday that the edition would not be ready for delivery before 10 days or a fortnight hence.

The directory contains close to 500,000 names and the volume is of ponderous size. Every trick of the printer's trade is used to economize space, but in spite of this, scores of extra pages creep in. The Smiths and Jones are gradually increasing and each have a page more than a year ago.

As the time approaches for the directory to be issued, its demand is felt in a way that causes much inconvenience to the publishers and the luckless druggists who keep the book on the front counter as a convenience to customers. Over 50,000 addresses are changed every spring, and with the new arrivals in town and the number that are erased by death, the work becomes one of hurry and bustle from April 15 until June 15, the date the directory usually appears. This year a great number of mercantile houses changed their offices and this necessitated considerable work for the canvassers. "The appearance of a new novel by some famous author does not cause half the stir that follows the annual appearance of the directory," said a downtown druggist. "It seems that everybody in town is anxious to know just how his name looks in type, and they stop in by the hundreds and stand in line before the counter for no other reason than to look through the book. Some people who come to look at the directory try to compensate the drug store man by buying a stamp or a postal card, but the great majority look upon this as part of our business and demand the use of the book with the same unconcern which they would call for a volume from a public library.

"It's curious to see how fastidious some people are in having their occupation exalted. I have known bill clerks to have tried to pose before the directory canvasser as a 'manager' or superintendent, and one instance came to my notice where a bright office boy made an attempt to put himself off before the world as the 'chief clerk' in a big wholesale establishment."
